

7521701366.txt

Big businesses like ATT, Comcast, and Verizon have too much power and control already over access to the internet. They SHOULD NOT get to decide what gets fast access and what doesn't. Because they already have monopolies on the market, giving them the authority to create two lanes of traffic with extra fees to slow down some services, this will continue to create a chasm in America between the rich and the poor.

Please protect net neutrality and don't allow this to happen. Defend the poor.