

7521701369.txt

It is important to allow Net Neutrality to continue because money does not equate to brains. People/corporations with money will erode the wide ranging, unlimited content of the Net--limiting us, once again, to only those messages that corporations want us to see. Net Neutrality forever! For the people!