

7521701389.txt

As a teacher my students need to be able to learn, research and access all kinds of websites. To treat any access to sites means that their opinions and views are limited or decreased. Even if they are wrong they have a right to be heard. Also students whose parents don't have the income will have less access and ought to lose internet all together bringing down their child's learning. Don't do it!