

7521701429.txt

I live in South Dakota. Digital technology has allowed small businesses a chance to have equal footing with companies across the country. Our region has always been ignored and treated like second-class citizens by the big Internet Service Providers.

Eliminating Net Neutrality will be certain to leave us with slower networks and less able to compete with businesses from urban areas.

Please reclassify ISPs as common carriers and protect those of us who don't live on the coasts.