As a regular watcher of rural programming I am asking you to make sure that RFDTV is not removed from the tv lineup. It is one of the few decent programming stations out of the 100s offered by Direct TV. It is a great way to help people in urban areas to become more informed about where and how our food gets to us. Please remember that there are a lot of rural people that should be able to stay informed by such programming. Not everyone lives in urban areas or are interested in nothing but urban programming. Thank you in advance for keeping such programming available to everyone.
