I would like to express my concerns and support of RFDTV. I am and have been a long time rural subscriber of Direct TV. As the looming merger of Direct TV and Time Warner draws closer to completion I want to be sure my voice is added to those who are concerned that the rural programming we now enjoy might be dropped after the merger. As a person whose life's work as an agronomist involved in row crop grain and fiber research and production I depend on RFDTV to help keep me abreast of the latest agricultural news and trends. I know of no other network that provides this service. It's not only the Ag related programming it is also the unique rural entertainment that RFDTV provides. Please consider my concerns and request of support for continued programming I receive from RFDTV on my satellite provider Direct TV.

Thank you
