We have watched RFD-TV since about 6 months after it started broadcasting. It has family and rural friendly programming which addresses problems/solutions all those involved in agriculture appreciate. Never have I had to censor what my children and/or grandchildren were watching when the TV was tuned to RFD.

I disagree completely with any station, company or other entity who has made the decision that RFD-TV is no longer relevant in today's world. Where would they go for food without agriculture or if "country wasn't cool"?

I, personally, decry most of what's on TV currently and is touted as popular. It is degrading and demeaning to us as a people, country & nation. RFD-TV is real people teaching others real life.

Let us have one channel that's ours for the country folk and you can have all the rest!
