I am against this merger. This makes these companies too big and leaves the consumer no control over cost, programming or service. They are already bad. The only reason I am with Direct TV now is to get the quality reception on my older tv since they went to digital, which is just a basic pkg. God knows I can't afford a better pkg or upgraded equipment.

Sad how getting tv in our homes has really gone backwards due to these big companies that want to just keep getting bigger.
