You would have to be a complete idiot to not realize the importance of rural television programming since it's rural people who raise the crops and livestock that provide the food for our nation and much of the world. Yet there are only two networks that carry rural programming. They are RFD TV and Rural TV. It is absurd to even consider removing them from programming. Both channels are good, honest, wholesome, educational and entertaining networks. If I couldn't get one (or both) of these channels via my cable company I would drop the company like a hot potato and put up an antenna.

PLEASE WAKE UP PEOPLE! Us Rural People feed all of you and if you like to eat I'd suggest supporting rural programming.
