

7521736870.txt

Please continue to offer RFD-TV to American viewers. The rural channel serves a significant segment of the population, both rural and urban viewers. Farmers and ranchers need information geared specifically to their needs, in addition to entertainment that is appealing to persons who desire wholesome and family-oriented offerings. Rural areas need access to this service. It would not be in the best interests of the United States to deny this to the rural population.