We are writing in support of RFDTV's right to be included in all Network programming as AT&T and DirectTV plan their merger. As DirectTV customers we have appreciated that RFDTV has been included in every package. RFDTV provides information and programming that is not available on any other network. Its family oriented and has so many programs that we as a farm family are interested in. It also provides urban viewers an opportunity to connect with and understand some issues from a rural viewpoint. There is a big disconnect between urban/rural that needs to be bridged if our country is to survive and prosper. We encourage you to continue to support RFDTV network programming and to make it available to both urban and rural customers.
