Keeping the internet open allows us as a society to move forward and advance as a whole. Being able to discuss and research all topics without regulations is a basic human right. The internet allows us to learn and grow and communicate with others around the world, filtering and controlling it holds us back. Controlling the speed of the internet will also hold us back because start up businesses won't be able to grow and people will then be controlled by internet providers who already have high amounts of power due to their monopoly like state. Please use your logic before you destroy something that is already going downhill because of big corporations like comcast and time warner.
