

7521747417.txt

Please keep the internet neutral. This freedom is very important for innovation and the free exchange of ideas and information. Paying for our share of broadband should be enough to receive whatever information or entertainment desired. The FCC is an agency serving the American public...not a handful of companies. Please do your job.