

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF ARKANSAS
FAYETTEVILLE DIVISION

CURTIS J. NEELEY, JR.

PLAINTIFF

v.

No. 13-5293

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSIONERS;
U.S. REPRESENTATIVES; JOHN BOEHNER, et al.;
U.S. SENATORS; JOE BIDEN, et al.;
U.S. ATTORNEY GENERAL, ERIC HOLDER ESQ.;
MICROSOFT CORPORATION; and GOOGLE INC.

DEFENDANTS

O R D E R

Now on this 16th day of January 2014, comes on for consideration Google Inc.'s Motion to Dismiss (document #13). The motion comes on the heels of the Court's Order dismissing the case pursuant to defendant Microsoft Corporation's motion but is submitted out of an abundance of caution to the extent the ruling dismisses fewer than all claims in the case.

The Court finds that the reasoning behind its January 15, 2014 Order dismissing the case on Microsoft's motion is applicable to Google and all other defendants. Accordingly, the Court hereby grants Google's motion and reiterates that this case is dismissed.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
