Please stop the combination of Comcast and Time-Warner. The combination of the two largest ISPs in the country, as well as two of the largest content owners and distributors, into one corporation is clearly anti-competitive in numerous respects, such as negotiations with other ISPs, bargaining power against Internet companies such as Netflix, etc. While the two parties claim that the merger would not result in a reduction in ISP choice for most consumers and as such is not anti-competitive, that is purely due to the fact that most people in America only have one or two tenable options for broadband access (if any at all), and does not address all the many other ways (content, distribution, access) that a combined Comcast-TW would be anti-competitive and monopolistic. In conjunction with blocking the Comcast-TW merger, I implore the FCC, FTC and the government to introduce rules invalidating local monopolies and shutting down the rights of municipalities to block competitive entrants in broadband and cable. Such anti-competitive local / state regulations are stifling new entrants such as Google Fiber or municipal ISPs and dragging America's competitive position well behind those of our peers in the global tech marketplace.
