

7521759311.txt

As an owner of an internet-dependent business, the idea that Comcast could lower the speed of the products that we serve to customers is appalling. For the sake of all small businesses, we implore that the FCC reconsider this "fast lane, hyper-speed lane" nonsense, and deny these sleazy ISPs, like Comcast and Time Warner, the ability to ruin the Internet for those who don't cough up enough cash.