

7521760779.txt

I am a Comcast customer because it is the only cable option where I live. It provides bad service at high price and I do not trust them to operate any differently if the merger goes through. In fact, I expect them to be much worse with all the extra power.