To FCC Chairman Tom Wheeler,

Whose side are you on Tom? The cable industry you were once a lobbyist for and the telco companies or the public's? You can either reclassify broadband under the proposed Third Way of former Chairman Julius Genachowski while exempting broadband providers from line sharing and price control mandates while reinstating Net Neutrality or sell out to the cable, telecom and Wall Street interests.

If you do right by the public and preserve common carriage on the Internet Wall Street and Republican politicians will be upset with you but the Democrats and consumer groups will support you. I too will support common carriage. Please reclassify under Title II and reinstate competition mandates for the broadband industry. The FCC and DOJ should not even be considering the Comcast TWC merger.
