

7521771344.txt

Please preserve net neutrality.

Cable companies already charge different rates to their customers based on download/upload speed.

They are charging for how fast the data is GOING to their customers.

Why stop there?

Now they want to get paid on the coming and the going.