To whom it may concern:

Please keep RFD-TV televised. Rural America and Urban American as well deserves this positive action. Rural America is and has been and still is a huge portion of the fabric of our country. In my opinion, it would be very much un-American to discontinue this all-American television station. It is already sad to think that many American companies resort to avoiding taxes by doing business abroad. The all mighty dollar seems to be more important to those certain companies rather than the financial survival of American. What would happen if everyone in our nation did business this way? The answer to that question is self explanatory. Do the right thing; keep RFD-TV televised. It is the "American" thing to do.
