

7521796941.txt

ISPs effectively hold monopolies in regions they operate. Therefore, increased regulation is necessary, and designating ISPs to fall under FCC Title II jurisdiction would help protect consumers and small internet businesses.