It is about time that we stop the large corporations from completely taking over our country. That would mean less freedom and choices than we have now, which is very little indeed. Less companies means more monopolizing and therefore the large corporations are able to do whatever they want since you, the consumer have no choice whatsoever. They become unconcerned and poor employers to their many employees also.

I am sick, sick of calling communication companies and getting no resolution to my problem. It is disgusting how large and unconcerned for the consumer they are. Do not let this happen again. Stop large corporate mergers and at least try and level the playing field once more for the average consumer.
