

7521799651.txt

Hello poor internet robot or person turned into a robot by reading thousands of comments.

I support the classification of ISPs as Title II utilities. Access to the internet is now just as important to quality of life as gas and electricity.

I strongly oppose the policy of allowing private companies to allocate bandwidth based on profitability with no base-level access guaranteed to the consumer. The free market cannot function in the absence of free entry into the market.