"I'm Requesting that the FCC reclassifies the internet service providers as Title II Common Carriers" This is a change That can be abused Having speeds that a company can pay for is wrong we all pay for an internet no one should get rights over the other and if a company (Lets say a service provider) Would want to I don't know cripple your websites speeds because they don't like what your saying about them. That is not right the internet can be used to state what people believe without having it taken down. Also if you think "OH no one will abuse what we are doing" That is a complete Lie human kind has people who always try to bend the rules in their favor and its part of our nature, I am not saying that's a good thing but it is bound to happen.
