There was a time when this entire country was 'Rural America'. It is what has made this country what it is now. It is a shame that the new generations have not been exposed to the rural culture. The programming on RFDTV is something that older people like myself can relate to. It is entertaining, wholesome and educational, which is something we need a lot more of. We have hundreds of channels and usually can't find anything worthy of watching. Please do not remove this channel from our programming schedule.
