I am totally against AT&T - Direct TV merger or if the merger is approved it should be approved on the condition that rural programming is assured of being on the air. This programming is very important to the rural population. I also know that many city folks find the programming very interesting and informative. I watch RFD TV 95% of the time and really, is about the only thing that is worth watching. And you don't need to worry about watching with children in the room.
