I am writing in support for rural programming, such as RFD-TV. Our nation needs a wide array of programming available and RFD-TV exemplifies rural America. As a Federal agency, you are required to act on behalf of ALL Americans and not just urban based citizens. When children and many adults don't know where their food, fiber, and fuel comes from we as a nation are really disconnecting from realities of life. Rural programming shares information on these subjects just as much and more than any news program can. Again, I support and hope you will to, continuing rural programming such as RFD-TV.
