

7521821152.txt

Internet for all equally is yet to become a fact in the US, especially in rural areas. I feel ISPs should be regulated same as phone and electric companies. I also feel that "premium" services for content providers will only bring more disparity between those that have and those that don't.