When I learned about the Direct TV and AT&T merger I thought this will be a good thing. Now I learn there are no plans to keep RFDTV in this overall overhaul. How deeply disappointed I am for it is my favorite channel program. What must you big companys be thinking? Is this greed? When you start putting the profits before the viewers you may learn someathing. I ask that you reconsider for some of us cannot hardly pay for your basic sevices now which is mostly informational sales pitches and of no interest to most of us. Maybe I just don't understand the purpose of the FCC.
