

7521824379.txt

I believe the Internet should be free from the ability of individual companies settings their own private rates for various tiers of service.