

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kimberly Zipprich
Van Nuys, CA
bunnymoonface20@hotmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Evelyn Gravatt
Irvington, AL
gravatt1973@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Anita Sparks
Blanchard, OK
anitadrg5t@outlook.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ciara Bankhead
Muskegon, MI
briannabankhead@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Harold Watts
Albuquerque, NM
hgwatts@msn.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mel Romans
Chicago, IL
Melromans1@aol.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Issa Ouachtouki
New York, NY
eraticbeats@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jason Derulo
Oakland, CA
aaronayger@yahoo.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Farida Gunawan
Clovis, CA
manado28@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Derrick Black
Suitland, MD
Ddblack04@yahoo.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

DEBRA HERSHEY
Strasburg, VA
Debrahershey253@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

cindy dickinson
Statesville, NC
cindyds638@hotmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jonathan Lindskoog
Cottage Grove, WI
jonl1090@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ashley Loudermilk
Columbus, OH
niki.nuisance@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Eddie Purcell
Greenup, KY
maryemorris26@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

samantha munoz
Phoenix, AZ
beatsedgy72@aol.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kathy Keffer
Hubbard, OH
kdkeff@netzero.net

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jeanette Henstridge
Cary, NC
jhenstridge1@yahoo.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

christina hami
San Antonio, TX
rose.goldsmith@yahoo.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

don holder
Troy, OH
djholder@hotmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Darlene Hale
Coeburn, VA
wintersmile2008@aol.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

daisy Harmon
Troy, NY
d-harmon1@hvcc.edu

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

bobbette marks
Sarasota, FL
sethelite@hotmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

maurice eubanks
Henderson, NV
sonicfoxiex@outlook.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Charles Price
Springfield, WV
pskipper3@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

OLIVIA NUNN
Maple Heights, OH
MRSCN425@GMAIL.COM

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Blaine Darcy
Jarreau, LA darkwings89@hotmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Daniel Carollo
Bonner Springs, KS
dboyxx@yahoo.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

tyler mclauchlan
Asheville, NC
btylerm@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Danielle Carwile
Mount Carmel, IL
sdcarwile11@mail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jo-Anne Petersen
El Cajon, CA
jo-petersen@cox.net

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Vino Babu
Purcellville, VA
vinobabu@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lori medley
Canton, OH
lorimedley1983@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

James Mcmann
New Britain, CT
JMcmann@yahoo.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jack anderson
Jeremiah, KY
hointo@hotmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

justine alzubaidi
Fort Polk, LA
aliyahsmommy05@yahoo.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Barry Turner
Omaha, NE
hawkdover1246@outlook.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

mickey sklar
Brooklyn, NY
mickey33@yahoo.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

robert mcdaniel
Lowell, MA
realityofsorrow@hotmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Shane Brown
Long Beach, CA
shanebrown37@outlook.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

James parkman
Evansville, IN otisjames66@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

William Youngs
Groton, CT
willyoungs99@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Roy Seals
Spokane, WA
smacksie@hotmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Nikki Luna
Raleigh, NC
moneymaker72187@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Dioguardo
Spring Hill, FL
jdioguardo@yahoo.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

ROBBIN ADAMS
Winston Salem, NC
CHERRY_MTN_NC@YAHOO.COM

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mary Ellen Voelz
Milwaukee, WI
mevoelz@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Santiago Meza
Fontana, CA
Chago7373@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kevin Ringold
Cedar Rapids, IA
kpro420@yahoo.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lionel Bergeron
Red Bank, NJ
lionelbergeron6@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ariel McTyre
Daytona Beach, FL
amctyre@msn.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Linda Meyer
Morgan, MN
delhigirl1950@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

javier garcia
Brooklyn, NY
elgoog111222@outlook.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tony Conti
Phoenix, AZ
ajconti@cox.net

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Merry Windhausen
Independence, MO
merrychristina@yahoo.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

james rodriguez
Vineland, NJ
alphadragon85@hotmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Melissa Anastasio
Shingle Springs, CA
melbelleana@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michael Kraft
Shawnee, KS
mlk001@msn.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Barbara Bishop
Las Vegas, NV
barbarabishoplv@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

steph wilcox
Winter Park, FL
stephwilcox7@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Stephanie Huber
San Manuel, AZ
laveybaby@yahoo.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

CEDRIC GRIGGS II
Euclid, OH
cedricsummers@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

oliver richards Surprise, AZ
oliegeri@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Robert Haug
Youngstown, OH
Haugr@sbcglobal.net

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Gregory Cunningham
Allentown, PA
gregoryacunningham@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

lake girl
Shelby, NC
lake.girl77@hotmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

sam brace Bennington, VT sbracebaker@ymail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

killim will Aliceville, AL
lamarquan@yahoo.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

anabelle samantha
Miami, FL
nicoleste305@hotmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Robert Taylor
Syracuse, NY
arsenal3013@yahoo.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

myra potocsky
West Bloomfield, MI
capcsav@aol.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

maria pucci
new york, NY
mariapucci62810@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Rosalyn Webster
Indianapolis, IN
rosalynwebster@yahoo.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

rebecca coleman
Cleveland, OH
pumkinsharvest@hotmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jim Doll
Edina, MN
fly747@earthlink.net

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Owen Connelly
New Orleans, LA
owenpatricio@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Elle Flores
Los Angeles, CA
bodystasis@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

James Johnston
Denver, CO
jimmyjamjam615@gmail.com

8/25/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

vanessa sanchez
Las Cruces, NM
vanessasanchez9898@Gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

amie George Aberdeen, WA
mizzamie360@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

hannah moon
Bennettsville, SC
moonhannah11@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

michelle rudnicki
Geneseo, NY
michellerudnicki@outlook.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Bill Burton
Jacksonville, FL
evange01@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

anne ellis
Irmo, SC
zig122003@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Stanley Coffman
Glen Cove, NY
stanleycoffman@optonline.net

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Al Dajka
East Rutherford, NJ
thesaint_64@hotmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Steve Vic
Brooklyn, NY
Woodlandslayer@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Diva Howard
Chapel Hill, NC
diva.howard@outlook.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ariana Raya
Sacramento, CA
tenafteryana@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

ernesto romero
Sacramento, CA
ernesto_romero5@aol.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Lichty
Green Valley, AZ
johnlichty@znet.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Katherena Boulden
Chicago, IL
kabould@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Edith Coxfield
Sparks, GA
coxfield306@att.net

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

pramila dalal
Little Neck, NY
dalalpramila@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michael Sherman
Covina, CA
deadeyeskid@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Chey Mertz
Glenpool, OK
chey.switz77@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Nicki Green
East Saint Louis, IL
Lilnickyla@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jason Hartley
Bartlesville, OK
Jasoneeg6@aol.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Don Parkey
Elizabethton, TN
parkkie21@hotmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Daniel York
Philadelphia, PA
Yorkd92@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kerry blazevic
Saint Paul, MN
pinklizard19@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brian Trinh
San Jose, CA
briantrinh@hotmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Harold Blotner
Madison, WI
szn@chorus.net

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sarah Dell
Southfield, MI
Sarahadell@hotmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jenna Maken
Arlington, TX
Jennastolechukeys@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kevin McGinnis
Tylertown, MS
Cajun7348@Yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

joanne gill
Temecula, CA
gill.joanne@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Patty Hapke
Corona, CA
blujeans33@hotmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

sarah criss Akron, OH
sarahcriss90@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Gene Varela
Sanford, FL
bklyn2fido@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Carrie Hawkins
La Vista, NE
chawk15@cox.net

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

JM Williams
Arden, NC
jmw929@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ashley Potter
Salt Lake City, UT
ashleyrg66y@outlook.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

NATHANIEL COVINGTON
Bennettsville, SC
cornandy33@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kurt fara
Vancouver, WA
Nebulagrya@outlook.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Donovan Noguez
Sachse, TX
EQD51@hotmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Norman King
Provo, UT
normanking2@hotmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Deon Robison
Taylorsville, UT
Dmmorley@aol.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Evan Daniels
Saint Paul, MA
dave@forcedreality.net

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Duck
Murray, UT
swishup@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jim Fredenburg
Port Orange, FL
jimfred079@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jack kent
Republic, MO
kentjack@outlook.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Bob Parker
Columbus Grove, OH
demonguy38@hotmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

joshua stuart
Tampa, FL
heyitsmejosh@hotmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Erica Mccray
Somers Point, NJ
thevibess1@aol.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Terry Arnold
Bloomington, IL
eevi@aol.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Jacon
Davis, CA
davis_keeper@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kathy tuske
Auburn, PA
ktuske@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Donna Palmer
Hemingway, SC
Teacherx444@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Chase Williams
Cedar City, UT
Chase76tgs@aol.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jacqueline rodriguez
Chicago, IL
jacqueline.r2299@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Barry Turner
Omaha, NE
hawkdover1247@outlook.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Bradley Kelley
West Des Moines, IA
bradley7i99h@outlook.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

rene arroyo
Beaumont, TX
filaman1961@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jessica estes
Olive Hill, KY
jessielynne85@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jack Carson
Hopkins, MN
jcars99@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

isaiah manson Copperas Cove, TX
malachi14435@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey Ryan
Franklin, NJ
chaos24jr@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

diamond brown
North Brunswick, NJ
queendiamond34@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kayla Ferestad
Omaha, NE
kayla.ferestad@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Willy Nappo
Housatonic, MA
wnappo@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

julie wright
Grand Rapids, MI
juliew1200@hotmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mitch Milesen
Powder Springs, GA
mitchmilesen16@hotmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Steven Mittelsteadt
Waseca, MN
sconi@hickorytech.net

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Andrew Sperry
Festus, MO
amssk8er01@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

clemon jones
Lake Wales, FL
josephclemon@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jim zer
Jersey City, NJ
twinbandan@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

tim reynolds Seattle, WA
bikllygoat971@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Tuttle
Pittsburgh, PA
turux@getairmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Daniel Prentice
New Port Richey, FL
bigsmilindan@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Daniel Newman
Lodi, CA
dannys_newman@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Betty Long
Columbia, CA
Bettyrhy6u@aol.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Adora Chew
New York, NY
adorachew@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

David L. Miller
West Unity, OH
dlrlm15@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kirby Ferrer
Dallas, TX
kirbylittlewat@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Amanda McClellan
Lexington, KY
amanda.mcclellan@live.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Angela Reynolds
Tyler, TX
Angelaff7ud@aol.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jimmy bumpus
Lewisburg, TN
jjbump@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Melanie Martinzes
New York, NY
nemoid2w4@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jesus baltierrez
Los Angeles, CA
six6sixrabbit@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

julie Wallace
Roswell, GA
jubean5@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

sam smithson
Monticello, IL
smithson34@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

adrian hendrix Caryville, FL
adhendrix3@hotmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

tasha carter Lawton, OK
treescherry@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Justin Jennings
Sikeston, MO
jaybird57350@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jim mills
Raleigh, NC
jimmy@aol.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Keshia Clark
Houston, TX
lakclark36@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michelle Lopez
Temecula, CA
PaganWarrior42@hotmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kevin Michal
Port Orchard, WA
kevinmichal@industrialbolt.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

harold rodriguez
Vineland, NJ
codplayer85@hotmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Maria Bartley
Los Angeles, IL
mariabartley234@outlook.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ryan Warden
Star, ID
rockwarden@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Freddie McConnell
Minneapolis, MN
nopenstein@mailismagic.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Matthew Bennett
West Hollywood, CA
MattyVT13@aol.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

anthony salierno paterson, NY
anthonysalierno4@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

thomas hayes
Shirley, NY
printer913@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kathy schram
Caro, MI
ckittykata@aol.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kenard adams
Richmond, VA
kenardladams@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jonathon ferguson
Springfield, IL
jonboy1620@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Ludington
Fairmount, GA
ludingtonjd@hotmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Horace Judd
Salisbury, MD
horacejudd@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tom Grealish
Vista, CA
t2grea@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jane Gracia
Texas City, TX
bjgracia@outlook.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Gina Allen
Yreka, CA
crylars@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kara Berlin
Fremont, CA
berlinkj@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

patricia arnold
Cleveland, OH
arnoldp@cmha.net

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ramona Dolese
Fayetteville, TN
monafish2@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Rosa Cox
Owensboro, KY
rosacox43@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jessica Mueller
Bethel Park, PA
peachway88@hotmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ronald Alley
Mount Pleasant, NC
ricky0927@windstream.net

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

mike roberts
Church Hill, TN
mickeyr384@hotmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Christine Fitch
Salt Lake City, UT
fitch.christine1@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Shain Knowles
Spring, TX
shainknowles@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Geoff Slats
Chico, CA
slots957@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

shawn lindsay
Greensboro, NC
shawns68129@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

DaJuan Howard
Grand Prairie, TX
lions4life74@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

john tele Logansport, LA
zedd2043@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Pierre Faucher
West Chester, PA
faucherp@gmx.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Corey Spears
San Diego, CA
C514Spears@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brandon Poteet
Bowling Green, KY
bpoteet0003@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Gary LaVigne
Brimley, MI
gmlsr53@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Amy Richardson
McKinney, TX
amysrich062012@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Justan Bengel
Columbus, OH
Superiorlandscaping2@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Yae Marshin
Tallahassee, FL
redwindy@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kevin duncan
Philadelphia, PA
kevg@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Bernice Upin
Minneapolis,, MN
bwu1921@comcast.net

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

leontine crosby Independence, LA
leontinecrosby12@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

nicholas montejo Gurnee, IL
nicholasmontejo@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

laura simmons
Bonifay, FL
lauralb123@hotmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

april worm
Goodyear, AZ
lovemonkey2016@outlook.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ben Abraham
Modesto, CA
babrahm@peoplepc.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

anthony salir
Paterson, NJ
ashleysalgo@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Randy Norton
Temple, TX
randygirl1@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ryan Joey
Fayetteville, GA
ryanjoey1@outlook.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mike Huff
Mesa, AZ
Mikeandlila@q.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Shane Elkins
Vail, AZ
shaneelkins44@msn.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Penny Hood
Vancouver, WA
hoodsp75@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Martin Domoe
Milpitas, CA
Mdomoe@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

eddie simmons
Pueblo, CO
edqward90@aim.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Terrell Camhi
Indianapolis, IN
phalgrower@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Daniel Johnson
Sacramento, CA
dannyhawaiianpride@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Frank West Williamstown, CA
surveysfake@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lawrence Robertson
Garden City, NY
lawrence_759@hotmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

chris sherwood
Citrus Heights, CA
c1msherwood@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

lexie myott
Flint, MI
lala1235@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

amanda wittel
Mansfield, OH
mandapandaCx@aol.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michael Boyne
Daytona Beach, FL
dynacu0588@aol.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

brittany doriskar
Tampa, FL
tweet0407@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Betty Turner
Omaha, NE
hawkdover1249@outlook.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Korina Renteria
Fontana, CA
samina.kg69@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Janis Moore
Oklahoma City, OK
windinfist@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kathryn Robertson
Falls Church, VA
robertson_katy@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

anthony murray
Wyncote, PA
antmurrjenkins2@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Angel Orr
Irmo, SC
Angel.Orr19@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

tommy simmons
Tavares, FL
simmonstommy65@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Terri Minster
Manistee, MI
jeffandterriminster@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

don blinov
Doylestown, PA
nvvedensky@aol.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

vero dean
Portland, OR
babydollw@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Carlund Williams
Chatom, AL
carlund13@outlook.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

michael Fuller Lauderdale, MS
fuller1978@comcast.net

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Nicholas Taugner
Cuyahoga Falls, OH
njt2.nt@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kay owen
Pinson, AL
cenasgal4wwe@aol.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dana Brogan
Salem, VA
dana_brogan@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Carlton Claridy
Lake City, FL
ccclaridy@bellsouth.net

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Robert Briones
Corpus Christi, TX
rbriones44.rb@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

michael burns
Racine, WI
mburns911@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

ruby stokes
Allentown, PA
a1537548@trbvm.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

tori elliot
Littlestown, PA
toribigham@facebook.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Darrell Demby
Chester, PA
Demby39@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

john hawkins apopka, FL
hooperh9k@aol.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Daniel Bust
Philadelphia, PA
itssrussy@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Vicente Williams
New Rockford, ND
nikkosweed@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Beow James
Los Angeles, CA
vincekingax@aol.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Elee Grootens
Miami, FL
haywodsamone@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lexi Peacemaker
Sugar Grove, WV
grandea466@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ivan Solis
Hawthorne, CA
isolis@maddogg.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Bob Speers
San Pedro, CA
speersfam4@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

ray Kelley
Davenport, IA
prizeswag91@outlook.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Daren Ratliff
Winston Salem, NC
daren.ratliff@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Andre Mccalpine
Cleveland, OH
dakingzone8@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Danny Jaime
Lynwood, CA
dannyjaime88@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dorothy Riggleman Prosperity, SC
dargom319rig@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Robert Johnson
Peoria, AZ
johnsonrl13@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

john miller
Richmond, IN miller11496@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jae wills
Philadelphia, PA
rbrownie641@outlook.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Shane Coker
Dallas, TX
shanecoker28@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jamell Brown
Syracuse, NY
mello8482@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jed Logan
Marina, CA
jed_logan@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

amber Roberts
Boonville, NY
amber43@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Suzanne Johnson
Wadena, MN
smjohnson1106@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brooklyn Rose
Blakely, GA
brooklyn.palmer88@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

theresa hunt
Albany, NY
theresa.hunt474@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Richard Oaks
Belleview, FL
bama83.ro@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

joseph cockran
Great Cacapon, WV
shauncockran@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

chris jones
Miami, FL
bugbustinjones@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Chance Mote
Burbank, CA chance.mote@sbcglobal.net

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jose reyes jr
harlingen, TX
jose.reyes.jr196935@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

miriam pagan Miami, FL
pinkribbons4hope@aol.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michael Rodriguez
Houston, TX
jamesleon20@outlook.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

leo brawn
Philadelphia, PA
LeoBrawnyru@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jimmie Chambers
Chester, PA
jimmie1200@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jim john Riverside, CA
joker951@excite.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Shirley F Cates
Atlanta, GA
scates795@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kevin mccauley
Martinsburg, WV
specialteams@mail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

rinsid dsweefw
Brooklyn, NY
tirnialuuvs@Aol.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kris wilson
Calumet City, IL
wilsonkristian24@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Allau Binondix
Riverdale, MD
Taxesment@gmail.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kimberly martin
Augusta, ME
kkabs5@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

lisa patton Greenville, AL
myeshapugh551@yahoo.com

8/26/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jacob Pruitt
Milwaukee, WI
JadeFlames@rocketmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Chris Paille
Muncie, IN themaninblack381@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Phyllis Murphy
Buffalo, NY
sarajoydavis@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

mary james Louisville, KY
elianaclay225@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Johnny Williams
Brooklyn, NY
tntester25@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

tim mclaughlin
Choudrant, LA
bloodysoul1@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kaye Harris
Nashport, OH
pervyuke@icloud.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

john ganslein
Newark, OH
dakotainaspiritfire@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Katie Godoy
Birmingham, AL
Ktmarie.godoy@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dajsha Bolden
Lexington, KY
iihoneybunz17@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

john sorcenelli
Cotuit, MA
johnsharsorce@verizon.net

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kim stuck
West Palm Beach, FL
kimstuck86@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mike McInerney
Buffalo, NY
Italianoogurlie1@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

torina jones
Kittrell, NC
torianaj10@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Trey jones
Henderson, NC
torijones12@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Otha Kier
Topeka, KS
roux12677@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ryan Smith
Palm Bay, FL
ryansmith119@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Aalayza Wombo
Fayetteville, NC
Vmplver@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

lily lu
Elk Grove, CA
chelosiae@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michael Johnston
Federal Way, WA
jammin_jamaican@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

joe kony
Washington, NY
johnpiedra35@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

vincent calistro
Victorville, CA
vincentcalistro67@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

TROYAN BEDFORD
Los Angeles, CA
leon.bedford@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Patricia Chinnici
Reno, NV
lorolover@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

ruby stokes
Allentown, PA
jxj06883@toiea.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

christopher Bergeron
Kenner, LA
coolboy528@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Randy Craft
Repton, AL
soaldude@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

todd francis Bainbridge, OH
reds_nut1977@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kristina Pinto
East Weymouth, MA
tp3x@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brian Sample
Boulder, CO
briansample@hushmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

taariq muhammad
Brooklyn, NY
taariqmuhammad414@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

cameron hendrix
Dallas, TX
cameron.hendrix89@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Peter Frazier
New York, NY
ncq26839@toiea.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joseph Splawn
Greensboro, NC
margorussia@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Caragan Cooper
Detroit, MI
Oct11th.13@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ellen Denis
Lake Forest, CA
shehulksm4sh@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

James Green
Brooklyn, NY
popmachamp@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Andrew Keilty
Danbury, CT
andrewkeilty@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lacie Adams
Littleton, CO
lacieadams21@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Casey West
Boston, MA
West.caseylynn@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mike Jones
Raceland, LA
mjones714714@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

JOSHUA HIGH
Oklahoma City, OK
ibeblue@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alonzo Anderson
Laurel, MS
landerson79@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Deborah Clark
Delaware, OH
dlcaff3@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Angel Santana
Bronx, NY
santana1@bxscience.edu

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

angie salzer
West Mifflin, PA
adia143@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

zane shipley
Johnstown, PA
zncrazyman@atlanticbb.net

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Minard Abernathy
Nashville, TN
mabernathy@abcnash.edu

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brian Haller
Rolla, MO
brianhaller1@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Rachel Clouse
Elizabeth City, NC
rachelacl@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tanya Gagliardi
Lancaster, NY
hapifeat@msn.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

michael mineau
Cuddebackville, NY
mikey_69_3478@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kristi Fowlkes
Lincoln, NE
kristi.fowlkes@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sean Wolf
Erie, PA
wolfmanbuddy@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Terry Gray
Morrow, OH
egray376@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Janella Ross
Texarkana, TX
JanellaRoss@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Willie Davis
Pensacola, FL
williedavis1980@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Greg Lewis
Houston, TX
teamdayjordan@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kaylun Mosley
Desoto, TX
kmosley75@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Gayer Baneder
Commack, NY
daeyeofsync@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Pierre Bill
San Jose, CA
PierreBill@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kimberly Devendorf
Monroe, NY
kimdevendorf@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Betty Turner
Omaha, NE
hawkdover1250@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

tony horton Billings, MT
dreadheadtony@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kaylah Key
Manhattan, KS
kaylah354rs@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Finn Guccio
Lake Forest, CA
mewichigo@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ana Tarver
Houston, TX
TxTarver@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michelle Stellato
Clementon, NJ
michelle.stellato@comcast.net

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

mark hunter Roseville, CA
mastermarku3@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jay haun
Davenport, IA
james22@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ned Popovich
Woodbridge, VA
majned@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Steven Treat
Nampa, ID
gammakayne@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jake Hepton
Westbury, NY
hermaq@Yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Andrea Roof
Marion, IL
asmith@comcast.net

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jamie wood Portage, IN jamiewood1972@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Renita Taylor
Detroit, OH
Renita9op0@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joe Stukov
Lexington, KY
jstukov@email.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Judy Craig
topeka, KS
tweety_bird1@cox.net

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

erick tarlu
Philadelphia, PA
tarluee@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

chele lynn
Lakeland, FL
chele.swageaux@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kelli Allred
Colorado Springs, CO
kmallred1978@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Carly Aducci
Irwin, PA
roxyanna718@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

john smith
Florida City, FL
apb.farmer@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Victoria Douthit
West Monroe, LA
toriane@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Felix Fair
Clinton, MS
Felo2save@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Darelyn Rock
Prescott Valley, AZ
dmrock03@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

annabelle jacobs
Lexington, KY
jamiemadrox1111@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

donnie edington
Marshall, MO
donedington1@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Will Roberts
Smyrna, TN
willroberts3490@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Danold Stanton
Portland, OR
dastanton@peoplepc.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Robert Elliott
Mount Hope, KS
bobelliott61@aim.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

SONNY MAGGIO
Arlington Heights, IL
taragui45@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

shawn creach
Yakima, WA s.j.creach36@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lisa Adam
Charlottesville, VA
adscollet2013@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Matthew Gilbert
Theresa, NY
mgsurveys2010@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Fanny Sharma
Temecula, CA
sharanmaar@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Cere Sabado
GONZALES, CA
c.sabado2486@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Melinda Nelson
Tacoma, WA
melindakaye77@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Greg Lo
Pembroke pines, FL
greglo458@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Chante Johnson
Bristol, PA
jchante6375@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alexa Valentin
Staten Island, NY
alexavalentinx@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Andrew Ryan
Beltsville, VA
taftyoufak@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Marilyn Letheby
Madison, WI
mletheby@charter.net

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Peter Johnson
Sacramento, CA
sarged230@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

rachelle parker
Brooks, GA
rachleigh83@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alexander Valentin
Staten Island, NY
alexandervalentin21@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michael Fimbres
Phoenix, AZ
optionsaller@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jun Banting
Vallejo, CA
Banting@sbcglobal.net

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michelle Paige
Mariposa, CA
mpaige_11@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michele Jones
Sacramento, CA
dmherrera78@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ahmad White
Chesilhurst, NJ
akiraisbae@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ariana Davis
Oklahoma City, OK
arianadavis710@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

william balcer bath, NY
billbalcer405@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kevin lee
Sacramento, CA
kevinlee028@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

lucy smith
Columbus, PA
lulu191234@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

LARRY ATWELL
Scottsville, KY
LKATWELL@NCTC.COM

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

James Yoder
Mayfield, KY
retardalert@armyspy.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

therese kirchhoefer
Myrtle, MO
bob32@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

robert munoz
Fort Worth, TX
robertemunoz39@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Carol Hayden
Berkeley, CA
ahayden@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Stacy Argent
Yucaipa, CA
drinkitme@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Paul Dang
North Hills, CA
tindangaz@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth Berlovan
Cleveland, OH
angeleyes24_44107@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

francisco cebollero
New York, NY
franciscocebollero@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jess Benningfield
Lexington, KY
beartomjess27@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Chris Dixon
Lodi, CA
chrisatsac@live.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Destini Johnson
Lacey, WA
Destini1988@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

michael alba
Miami, FL
djchronik1986@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Pamela Bowie
Parlin, NJ pamelab1974@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

matt mayfield Heflin, AL
mthenutsaaaa@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

dustin harris
New Port Richey, FL
dustinharris14@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

charity green Reynoldsburg, OH
misscgreen90@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

alice rivers
Minneapolis, MN
alierivers10@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Anna Hilden
Dayton, OH
maryannahilden@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jay kay
San Francisco, CA
henry5842@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tracy Litherland Vincennes, IN
hardingjeff@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tony Higgins
Eagle Lake, MN
tj1922@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

George Blanthorn
Garland, UT
gblan46@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Chris Gallegos
HANFORD, TX
chrisgallegos548@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Molly McDaniel-Rentschler
Atlantic Beach, FL
mollymcd@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Norma Gusdal
Bellingham, WA
ngusdal@msn.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

miley lawrence Kahului, HI
miley_lawrence@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Rosa Ramirez
Salem, OR
rosieramirez22@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ida Hayes
Elmwood Park, IL
Idanami@att.net

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Deangelo Byrd
Byram, MS
delobyrd@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Betty Turner
Omaha, NE
hawkdover1251@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

charles valerius Lagrangeville, NY
cwwaklerius@aim.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kevin Troup
Manteca, CA
majorrager76@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

susan clark
Denver, CO
skclark67@comcast.net

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

john moore
Pine Bluff, AR
christinacalhoun@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

rusty shackaford
Beverly Hills, CA
gew83_81@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

sophia sith
Sacramento, CA
malayah.swaggg@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ivan Flores
Rialto, CA
arbok67677@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dan Young
Saint Paul, MN
schryder@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Nam Pillsock
Abrams, WI
teewl@startkeys.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lorna Garcia
Miami Beach, FL
swaggygirl4u143@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jonathan Mehle
Ripley, TN
jrm91791@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

troy right
Warrenton, MO
phu53485@toiea.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Vicki Brown
Durham, NC
grandmaorus@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brian McDermott
San Francisco, CA
Dermott54@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Lieberman
El Paso, TX
johnelieberman@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alexei davis
Mahanoy City, PA
adidas106@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Aaron Vargas
Las Cruces, NM
isabellaangelaaron@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Anibal Irizarry
LAKELAND, FL
TT_P3H@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Devon King
Santa Cruz, CA
Jason.Miller101@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Misty Talkington
Salt Rock, WV
huson4332@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sam Flakker
Redding, CA
Purefire298@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Antonio King
Waldorf, MD
antonioking351@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

roger ricks battleboro, NC
doright1978@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michele zemel
olney, MD
myrewards9413@verizon.net

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Carmen Morales
Oakland, CA
morrmeales@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Christina Philips
Columbus, OH
chrissyntures@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Anil Valbh
WINDERMERE, FL
TT_1HN@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Cymone Carter
Hampton, VA
carterboy005@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

liberty swiatkwoski
Virginia Beach, VA
liberty110603@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

russ Lindzy
Anderson, IN
russlindzy@live.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Wesley Edwards
Ogden, UT
Wesleyff6y@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Thomas Ranker
Stockton, CA
Thomasranker5@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kailan Brown
North Las Vegas, NV
brownkailan@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Robin Joy
Boaz, AL
goofygigglegirl@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lonnie Pickard Brighton, IA
lonpickard@live.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Richard Dunn
Dale, IN rdunn460@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alethea Smith
Tacoma, WA
Alethea99p0@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

clay cardwell
Franklin, LA
smartie279@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

ashley thompson
Farmington, ME
mac.lowes51@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

william shafer
Brooklyn, MD
realitycheck732@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sasuke Uchiha
Bridgeport, CT
alexrosario136@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Skoa Wolffee
Groton, CT
Skwolffee@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

David Watson
Vanceleave, MS
enjoigod@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

joanne harns
Kirbyville, MO
sunnybrook2002@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Bonnie Hurlbut
Gilroy, CA
rogerhurlbut@earthlink.net

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

keith watson
Cincinnati, OH
grampa.keith@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

serena Mcenaney
Saugus, MA
smcenaney827@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Rebecca Moore
Martinsville, VA
elijahh1990@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jen jamerson
Warwick, RI
jenjamerson2014@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Randall Miele
Pleasant Grove, UT
randallmiele@rhyta.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jhen Francisco
Bronx, NY
ojhengardo@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tim Hansen
Canandaigua, NY
thansen@rochester.rr.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

meghan carr
Saint Louis, MO
mvaninger@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Phyllis Kincaid
El Paso, TX
ptkincaid2013@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Shirley Apsey
Reed City, MI
apsey4929@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

scott way
Nashville, TN
SCOTTWAY6411@comcast.net

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

clay cardwell
Franklin, LA
redirontb@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

MARY KOEHN
abbotsford, WI
marykoehn69@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Robert Murin
Apache Junction, AZ
Bobmurin@msn.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

nikolus harris
Gwynn Oak, MD chefgiant@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Chad Whited
Centerville, GA
kermie11@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

David Foster
Warner Robins, GA
Fosterthememories@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Paul Joy
Los Angeles, IL
pauljoy6594@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Christy Whited
Macon, GA
kermielover11@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kevin Brink
Swedesboro, NJ
Rutgerskevin@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Janet Menard
Menasha, WI
tmyjmmgrl@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

tammy fitzgerald
Athol, MA
fitz.tammy81@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

alexis meadows
Port Orange, FL
kellum97@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Veronica VanCise
Canonsburg, PA
justmedamnit06@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

elisa ayala
Fort Meade, MD
ayaelisa2000@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Delilah Tsakmakis
Stoneham, MA
alejangabi@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

vanessa gray
Aberdeen, MS
vernegrays2@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brian Capita
Norman, OK
Capitamail-01@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

marie bunch
Goldsboro, NC
veewilliams45@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tim Pionessa
Warsaw, NY
knothead619@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tim McDowell
Kansas City, MO
aaamacs@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kathryn Braden
Arlington, VA
kcbraden@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Allison Wyman
Easthampton, MA
allisonsurveys@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

james jarrell
Dover, FL
jjljarrell7@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

lexi Mendoza
Green Bay, WI
udobrojevic1@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

walter james
North Kingstown, RI
walterjames39@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Claudia Ivey
Boston, MA
yvetta143@aim.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

david hailey
Oklahoma City, OK
davidhailey@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Zita hemenway
Carrboro, NC
zitaac@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brittany Heffler
Baltimore, MD
wookiecards34@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jaccin Ambroise
Deerfield Beach, FL
Jaccin373@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

will lawson
Brooklyn, MD
shrewsmaill@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

linda sanchez
brooklyn, NY
cruzd945@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Terrill Eldridge
Belton, MO
teldridge59@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Glenna Grayson
Springfield, TN
ggrayson2@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

wayne powell
Temple, TX
madmax90001@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

David FosterNotaro
Ripley, TN
hadoken2.thechest@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Davaun Payton
Blackwood, NJ
paytondavaun@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Evelyn Gravatt
Irvington, AL
gravatt1962@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

David Foster
Warner Robins, GA
david_foster88@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Patrick Boviall
Aurora, IL
pb827@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Esther Lara
Oklahoma City, OK
Estherfuj7h@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joseph Haas
Detroit, MI
Josephhaas3514@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

shawnkha patterson
Gonzales, LA
khiaapatterson@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ricky Ford
Hobbs, NM me@rickylford.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Melissa Adame
Chicago, IL
yumboyakrich@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

rachelle vnace
Locust Grove, GA
rachellevnace@att.net

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Franklin shaw
Fort Wayne, IN
hotshotskull19@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

david roseman
Fort Mill, SC
daveroseman@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

skylar charbe
Mount Clemens, MI
truebee101@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Adam Patterson
Atlanta, GA
destinylashea123@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Irene Lewis
Aurora, IN
reniebean52@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

brad thomas Mohnton, PA
bradb68@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lena Lin
Denver, CO
acastro8970@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brian Haller
Durango, CO
grantmarnie67@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

mike edd
Hampton, FL
mikedegagers@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

martha evans
Sacramento, CA
evansmartev3@att.net

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

april murray
Babylon, NY
april.murray.523@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alfred Irish
VESTAL, NY
alfredirish@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

eric wright
Brooklyn, NY
publicenemyny@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kenneth James
Champaign, IL
kjamesy@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Shane Brown
Long Beach, CA
shanebrown91@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michelle Scott
Los Alamitos, CA
gamestar10101@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kirsten Kieffaber
Lemoore, CA
calebnangies_mommy@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

liz penn
Statesville, NC
lunademon@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

joey morris
South Shore, KY
sarah_ladyknight@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

rae brown
Klamath Falls, OR
raeowens@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

tina carmon
Winterville, NC
tcarmon80@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kyle smith
Bay City, MI
kegland@hellokitty.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sharon Smith
Hemet, CA
ssuesmith59@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Nick Abernathy
Thompson's Station, TN
nabernathy2013@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dominique Choromanski
Eugene, OR canuckkaldirris@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

joe cassady
Blackwell, OK
cassady6@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Angela Hall
Williston, FL
tylerdghall@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Faith Brislin
Hunlock Creek, PA
sickpsyko@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mia Jones
Kearny, NJ
m.jones@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Hani Pa
Rochester, DC
minniemouse1224@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

matthew lizotte Litchfield, ME
lizottematthew17@outlook.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

mary morman
Little River, SC
marymorman@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Tron
Conyers, GA
ballstothewalls34@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Urihaia Peters
Bainbridge, PA
urihaiapeters16@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Patrick Coy
Canoga Park, CA
patrick.coy@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

michelle blair
Parkersburg, WV
kinley.cindy@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

davon guadalupe
Port Charlotte, FL
xtoxicguadalupex420@aol.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Amberlee Hoagland
Lecompte, LA
amberleehoagland@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Abigail Lorenzo
Franklin Square, NY
abigaillorenzo11@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Reginald Lewis
Houston, TX
reginald.lewis51@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Danielle Garland
Paducah, KY
topaz_firefly@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kevin davis
Roanoke, VA
kevindavis0621@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kristina Swider
Mooresburg, TN
klswider@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Krissy Sibell
Rothschild, WI
Krissysibell@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

manolo ukillo
Los Angeles, FL
laravergona@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

pete limprasert
Clovis, CA
limprasertp@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Andrea Siklosi
Ypsilanti, MI
siklosi88@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

imani johnson
Avon, MA
dehjahaye@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

breanna griffin
Shawnee, OK
bree.couponer@hotmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Laura Pafford
Chesapeake, VA
Laura_alke@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dolan Dak
Reston, VA
goobylz@gmail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Clarann Macherione
Portland, OR
macherione@comcast.net

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

michael allen
Grand Rapids, MI
illa1dee@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mark Wilson
lake city, TN
chancewilliams216@YAHOO.COM

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

nikol morales
Delphi, IN
nikolmorales24@yahoo.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

sadie avery
Caldwell, TX
sadieavery@ymail.com

8/27/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kirk redburn
Standish, MI xxmetalhead75xx@gmail.com