

7521825935.txt

Cable companies need to be reclassified as title II telecom providers in order to protect the open internet! Start up businesses will not be able to compete fairly with established businesses who can actually afford and pay the premium for internet fast lanes.