

7521826910.txt

I am strongly in favor of Net Neutrality. The open internet has been one of the cornerstones in of the innovations of the last decade. Creating a caste system of bandwidth priority depreciates the ability of innovators to compete against industry behemoths.