

7521827567.txt

The internet has been based upon equal access by individuals and businesses alike. I believe it is in the best interests of the public to continue to keep access and internet speeds neutral for all users.