

7521827667.txt

I already have no option but to use Comcast. They already jack up costs and slow down speeds without customers having any recourse. Letting the two largest companies merge further restricts what few options we already have