Please do not allow regional monopolies (cable companies) the ability to throttle our internet services further. The internet should be just like our roads, open and accessible by everyone. Some may argue that there are "toll roads" and I agree, there are and the internet is already a toll road; The tolls we pay for the internet are to get onto it. We pay our service providers already for access. These are companies that have horrible customer service, horrible technical service, and make millions in profit off their neglected customers.

Please support Net Neutrality!

Mr. Dingo, please don't eat my baby! The appearance of impropriety and a conflict of interest is appalling. I work for a Fortune 50 Bank, and ethically if we did what appears to be happening at the FCC right now, we'd have regulators fining us from now until eternity.

Take up the people's cause, or step down.

Thank you for your kind consideration to my heartfelt pleas.
