

7521840071.txt

Net neutrality is extremely important. The individual households who already pay for internet service will be priced out of internet access, just as some are priced out of cable television. The fees charged are getting outrageous, some use the internet not only for entertainment but for school work or to pay bills. Please keep the internet neutral. Let people pay for the speeds they can afford and let those speeds stay constant.