

7521843165.txt

In most of the places I've lived, there are few options for broadband internet. The only option that I have here is for Comcast. Do we seriously want less options in this country?

If anything, comcast and time warner cable should both be split up.