This merger would create a terrible monopoly. Comcast and time warner together would control the majority of all Americans connected to the Internet. Without competition, this merged company would be able to raise prices and lower access speeds without concern. The United States is supposed to be a world leader. In my area, $60/month gets you maybe 20 mbps with a data cap. Other places in the world, it is common to be able to get upwards of 100 mbps for $20/month with no data cap.

Allowing this merger would be an embarrassment. It would show the citizens of the United States and the world that our government and regulatory bodies are jokes. That they are corrupt, greedy organizations that let monopolies flourish as long as they have large lobbying groups and pay "campaign donations". This supports a society based on bribery, not morals. It will be a sad and pathetic day in American history if this merger is allowed.
