

Dear FCC:

Net neutrality is absolutely necessary and should be protected. We are seeing growing monopolies over information, telecommunications, and access at the same time that the internet has become a necessary tool to access news and participate in commerce. Allowing paid differential access to broadband resources will result in a chilling effect on innovation and small business, and unfairly discriminate against those with fewer financial resources.

Please support net neutrality and preserve open internet practices.

Ivy Gerbis