

7521886995.txt

Please do not destroy net neutrality! The FCC should be focusing its efforts on improving service/speed and lowering cost for internet access. We are rated far below many third-world countries when it comes to connection speed, and costs are ridiculously high. Don't allow telecommunications corporations to further expand their monopoly power over internet access!