

7521901289.txt

I would prefer internet service providers classified as common carriers. It is not the our governments' place to make a public interest into a corporate moneymaker that craps on the consumers.