

7521979899.txt

Please keep an open Internet and net neutrality intact. Having a level playing field on the information highway is key to innovation something this country was founded on. By adding regulation that can be affected by large businesses and special interest groups is not the way to keep information open, which was the original vision of the Internet. Again, please keep the Internet open and net neutral.