

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

David Bartelt
Colorado Springs, CO
dbartelt@centurylink.net

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

sebastian circo
Los Angeles, CA
yanorox@att.net

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brandy Simon
View Park, CA
Bsimon26@hotmail.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Margaret Harvey
New Market, IN ann_hrvy@yahoo.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey Sebelia
Pasadena, CA
jeffreyselbia@sbcglobal.net

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Deborah Freeman
Omaha, NE
dfreeman@carlsonrezidor.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Matt Houser
West Chester, OH
x13255@gmail.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Timothy Barrington
Kaukauna, WI
tmnhit@vbe.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

KATHERINE TAVARES
Texas City, TX
bizykatie@yahoo.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Naveen Samba
Frisco, TX
s_navin@hotmail.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

amos brown
Seattle, WA
amosbrown76@yahoo.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Richard Bernardo Stratford, CT
rich.bernardo@gmail.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alice Braziel
Jacksonville, NC
alice_braziel@yahoo.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jason Noble
Long Beach, CA
j.noble62@yahoo.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

justin smith
York Haven, PA
justsmitty031387@gmail.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Rachel Nard
Fort Wayne, IN
rlnard@yahoo.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Cary Clemons
Vancouver, WA
caclemons@outlook.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Will Walker
Long Beach, CA
williewalker5@gmail.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Patrick Pockat
Lakebay, WA
packerpockat@yahoo.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Matthew Gille
Saint Paul, MN
mattgille@yahoo.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

keith sharp
Austin, TX
tigga64@hotmail.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Rohan Varma
Plano, TX
rohanvarma18@gmail.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mary Kay Madigan Ledue
Charlotte, NC
mkledue@hotmail.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Vincent Zembruzski
Chester, NY
vindogz@gmail.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ronald Pease
Auburn, NY
m4142mp@verizon.net

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Debby Jefferson
Rosamond, CA
trintsnana@aol.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Keith Neal
Homer, NY
keithianneal@yahoo.com

9/3/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Andy Le
Chantilly, VA
ban4ever@hotmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michael Bruce
Tonawanda, NY
onesimusdnb@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kathy Christensen
Culpeper, VA
christensen.wk@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Christopher Scott
Denver, CO
cscottrun4it@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

GREGORY TURNER
Easley, SC
gturner@bellsouth.net

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Craig Lawrence
East Wenatchee, WA
craig@craiglawrence.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jim Shipley
Mentor, OH
jshipley24@att.net

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kevin Carr
Avon, OH
kcarr4@roadrunner.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Berry
Azusa, CA
jennsongberry@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

ricky cromer
New Bloomfield, PA
riccrom2@aol.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ryan Lynn
Jericho, VT
Ryedirtbike@hotmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

william grider
Linden, TN
billygrider3@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

margie pocock
Honolulu, HI
mpwaikiki@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Henry Flores
Huntington Park, CA
henrygufl@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joshua Kluesner
Peoria, IL
jdkluesner@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Steven Sankus
Newark, DE
ssankus01@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

sam pisano York, SC
spisano5@msn.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Margaret Portillo
Azusa, CA
maggs2241@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

RICHARD Hopkins
Maynard, MA
hopkinsrichardj@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Vicky Alexander
Connersville, IN
v.alexander2007@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

david six Lisbon, OH
d716sunset@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tom Ray
Idaho Falls, ID
tomrays@hotmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Marina Moorhead
Colorado Springs, CO
davidmoorhead@bellsouth.net

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mike Griffin
Houston, TX
texasmustang@hotmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Elaine Campbell
La Vergne, TN
ecampbell459@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

david boczar
Cleveland, OH
davidab99@sbcglobal.net

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kim acton
Blanding, UT
acton.eric@int.sysco.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Karen Larsen
Coronado, CA
larsen57@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

KEVIN FARRELL
Riverdale, CA
purplecrowa@att.net

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brenda McCardle
Lewistown, PA
bjmccardle52@hotmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Richard Farley
Moses Lake, WA
wapanther69@hotmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Christopher Baker
Norfolk, VA
milneum_viper@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Bob Antonelli
Somerville, MA
rba22@comcast.net

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

rob dixon
Jacksonville, FL
dix12rst@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jason rhodes
Houston, TX
JRHODES.ELECTRONICSGURU@GMAIL.COM

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Linda Dean
Terre Haute, IN grannydienethal1952@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Charles Stacker
Saint Louis, MO
chrsstacker@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Candy C.
Flagler Beach, FL
Cag612@aol.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Scott Christ
Owatonna, MN
scott.s.christ@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mark Settle Gary, IN
marksettle82@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Melinda Chamberlin
Chesterfield, VA
mhchamberlin@alumni.vcu.edu

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Claude Douglas
Bronx, NY
edoug99@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Chester Kulus
Lititz, PA
chkulus@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Paul Cardone
Nashua, NH
plciv@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

James Adley
Livermore Falls, ME
adleyjames@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Cathy schmiers
Bardstown, KY
ccatcookpp@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Martha Schaeffer
Phoenix, AZ
marthaschaeffer@hotmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jason Schroeder
Phoenix, AZ
jschroeder73@hotmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lauri Major
Belton, SC
Laurib36@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sandra Fields
La Grange, KY
fieldsfamily99@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

James Ware
Stockton, CA
HOTMAN39@HOTMAIL.COM

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

ADELINE FATTORE
Fort Lauderdale, FL
SAKBAG@AOL.COM

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Glenn Spore Alliance, OH
bjspore430@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Randy Jackson
Bogue Chitto, MS
randy_jackson5@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Melissa Johnson
Warsaw, VA
melissa.johnson121068@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Keith Johnson
Warsaw, VA
kjohnson@reyesholdings.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Betty Scott
Woodbridge, VA
betbsctt@aol.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tabetha Held
Woodbridge, VA
theld@reyesholdings.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Weston Evans
Greentown, IN
weva224@sbcglobal.net

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joe Foster
Minneapolis, MN
joefo22@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Erik Thomack
Columbus, IN
erik.thomack@siho.org

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

James Harriman
South Dennis, MA
jimmygharri@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Wanda Holsclaw
Robertsdale, AL
holsclawwj@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Stegall
Florence, MS
jennifer.stegall@rcsd.ms

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

steven phipps
Nunn, CO
basdad73@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mercy Rodriguez
Nunn, CO
mercynn59@aol.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sheli Frattarelli
Sidney, NY
sheli.frattarelli@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Hatfield
Olympia, WA
johnhatfi@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ben Rolfes
Lawsonville, NC
ben@equitymax4u.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mary Hanke
Sammamish, WA
mary.hanke@frontier.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Raymond Jiggetts
Bronx, NY
raynyc@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jamie Weber
Lindenhurst, NY
jaminene@optonline.net

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lauren Walsh
Ada, OK
walshlauren725@live.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tabitha Constantino
Beacon, NY
tabz1004@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

keith brock
Miami, FL
b3kei@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

James TORTORELLA
Raleigh, NC
jamestort@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

candy smith
Foley, AL
CANDYSMITH@GMAIL.COM

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

William Zion
Ocala, FL
puttmitz@embarqmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Aaron Albert
Sanford, FL
aalbertcrc@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

KETAN CHRISTOPHER PATEL
fredericksburg, VA
texaskcp@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Don peterson
Vandalia, MO
doninaz30@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Gerardo Garcia
Lenexa, KS
ggarcia013@hotmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dan Duncan
Olympia, WA
dan@pinnacle-rarities.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Phillip Kithcart
Sugar Land, TX
sjkspeakup@aol.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Patricia Armstrong
Osage City, KS
shp4ulady67@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Leo Vasquez
Portage, IN
leoluvsteresa@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

bob stewart
Faribault, MN
bobandgloriastewart@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

KEVIN McCartney
Springfield, VA
jrbrambleton@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Winslow
Jacksonville, FL
johnvwinslow@msn.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kent Elliott
Danville, IN
elliott.kent@rocketmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

William Paige
Baltimore, MD
fredsmooth60@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Henry Fong
Kahului, HI
hfsfong@hawaiiantel.net

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Marcus Boyd
Riverdale, MD
msboydsr@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

ROGER ROSS
Winston, GA
rjross0514@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Virginia Souther
Homosassa, FL
bantemrooster@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Nate Olander
Lowell, MI
aeves.nate@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kevin Harris
Louisville, KY
kevinburto@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Renae Elliott
Norcross, GA
humphreyrenae@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

James Katorski
Kalamazoo, MI
jkato1@charter.net

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Xochitl Campos
Loomis, CA
xrcm85@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

David Gayden
Houston, TX
g313man@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

james lascola
McKinney, TX
james.lascola@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Scott casagrand
Telford, PA
scttc12@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Chelsea Hammond
Glendale, AZ
hot_bumper@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Josh Blucher
Huntersville, NC
blucherboy1@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brandy A Henry
Albertville, AL
brandy.henry@live.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Elias Davila
Rockford, IL
asklaffyelias5@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mark Tower
Weare, NH
mtower22@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Larry Gale
La Vergne, TN
Larry.Gale@steelsummit.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Bryan Baughman
Indianapolis, IN
cgballer20052@aol.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Andrew Chastain
Easley, SC
andychastain52@outlook.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

brent heath
Long Beach, MS
bheath8@me.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Eric Adams
Westminster, CO
ericsworld8524@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

allen brumbelow
Atlanta, GA
brumbelowa@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Warren Dahlke
Phoenix, AZ
rlaws_inc@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

tony le
Tacoma, WA
ussigntony@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ross Harrington
Hesperia, CA
larossharrington@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

KATHY COLLISON
Layton, UT
katcolli716@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Donna Fuller
Florence, MS
dcf0926@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Montrevis Graggs
Shreveport, LA
m_graggs12@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Judd Walker
Saint Augustine, FL
jwalker2fla@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jon harris rosholt, WI
jonrussellharris@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Thomas Burgess
Menasha, WI
tburgess10@new.rr.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mike Milihram
Martinsburg, WV
mmilihram@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Vivian Rahe
Manhattan Beach, CA
vmrahe@verizon.net

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ben Smith
hillsboro, OR bensmith1781@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Katherine kamaka
Las Vegas, NV
Neilkam09@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

john palmer
Smiths Creek, MI
johncarriepalmer@comcast.net

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Clye Moore
Henrico, VA
renee424@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Marcus Eatmon
Chicago, IL
marcuseatmon@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dana Shep
Scranton, PA
dancer2496@windstream.net

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sandra Petersen
Dahlonega, GA
sancinkev888@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Cyn Archibald
Saint Paul, MN
carchibald@wwt.net

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Scott Skellie
Toledo, OH
scottytiger@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Keith Roe
Flemingsburg, KY
kroe_6@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Chris Bradshaw
West Point, UT
christoferg@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Schiquita Pleasant
White Plains, KY
schiquitapleasant@yahoo.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ashton Shanks
Springfield, MO
ashtonshanks@gmail.com

9/4/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Martha Holcomb
Sherman, IL
martyholcomb09@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Stephen Boisseau
Brooklyn, MI
csjb1995@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Zack Harris
Perry, FL
zackharris@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

john simkovich
Shadyside, OH
jms2010tigers@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Patrick Dziedzic
Lawrence, MA
pdziedzic2015@cchsraider.net

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

thomas jackson
Oakland, CA
thomasjackson7700@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Hassen Rockssi
Jacksonville, FL
rockhass@juno.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

melissa patten
Huntsville, AL
losingitnbama@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Artaveous Nelson
Pooler, GA
jayju85@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

toreko rowell
Memphis, TN toreko@bellsouth.net

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kelly Thompson
Lexington, KY
krthomp1983@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Frank Underwood
Bassett, VA
frankdawg.fu@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Darwin Lehnhoff
Revere, MN
d.lehnhoff@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Hilary Shirley Portales, NM
chtcb_dixon@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Adam Wingard
Myrtle Beach, SC
wingard.adam@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kevin mangan willowick, OH
manganace7@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Samuel Hirsch
Marshfield, WI
sam1137048@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Shawn Vesco
Cleveland, OH
drizden@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey Hatfield
Daytona Beach, FL
jeffreyhatfield43@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Robert E Hayden
Marietta, GA
robhayden@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

FRANK PHILLIPS
Kennewick, WA
FRANKPHILLIPS79@YAHOO.COM

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

donald roberts
Kenosha, WI
drr30@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

carrie beth La Porte, TX
lpkush@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jason callender
Norwich, CT
jasonelliottcallender@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jesse geiger
Hartford, WI
shaggy.geiger69@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Christine Lahr
Sunbury, PA
shikellamymom@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Melvin Dean
Nicholasville, KY
foxhollowky@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Anthony Taylor
Meadville, PA
qsterr3@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jeremy McDearmon
Hugo, MN
jeremy@mcdearmons.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

brandon hawk Rimersburg, PA
punkmuncher@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Leudesdorf
Madison, AL
leudesdorfj@bellsouth.net

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

raul narvaez
El Paso, TX
rang60@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alan Goldman
Louisville, KY
alan_goldman@5boro.net

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Morgan Ahrens
Provo, UT
Morganahrensbyu@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dan Hensley
Youngtown, AZ
dman3374@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

david mcbride
Pollock, LA
mcbridester@aol.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

john bcskovits
Bloomington, IL
boscoap13@att.net

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Shawn Wilkins Millbury, OH
wilkins_shawn@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

paul stankiewicz
Lakeland, TN
paulstankiewicz1@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Arron Lisy
Southwest Harbor, ME
potsnpans4u@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

James Bell
Charles City, VA
cardiyay918@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Larry hernandez
Bakersfield, CA
larsh1985@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tyrone Gaskins
Little River, SC
tynedy23@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

mike hott
Keyser, WV
spunky1977.mh@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mickey Magness
Sun City, AZ
mmagness1@cox.net

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

art anilhongse
Fremont, CA
art_hong@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Trudy Klimpke
Prentice, WI
1978trudy@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

xuanrong zhou
Bellevue, WA
xuanrong.zhou@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joey Bruce
Natchez, MS
jojobruce7@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

rick johnson
Dover, OH
rickj57@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

SIDNEY RIVERS III
Delray Beach, FL
Sidhoe@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

CORINE YNOJOSA
Amarillo, TX
ynojosacorine@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

James Williams
Elizabethtown, KY
jewilliams@mckendree.edu

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

robert bird
Dundalk, MD
robdiv081@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kurt Whitfield
Indianapolis, IN
rusty_dog@sbcglobal.net

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lindell Walton jr
Caribou, ME
walt3745@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alyssa Violette
Manchester, NH
boo.boos.10@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

greg courter
Chippewa Falls, WI
gregcourter@rocketmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

victoria davis
Florence, SC
vckyDavis@twc.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Merrill Pegg
Crofton, KY
Pegghogdude@aol.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Marriah Bing
Philadelphia, PA
mbing826@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Robert Pieri
Woburn, MA
kinock@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ira Walton
Arlington, TN
irawalton@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

usman sotomi
Sugar Land, TX
idowusotomi@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

robert campbell
Colorado Springs, CO
rt0311@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Craig Womack
Chula, GA
wheelie0099@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Hugh McClean
Baltimore, MD
hmclean2002@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brenda Gaines
Henrico, VA
jazzybg2good@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dawnita Biggers
Ashland, VA
mdt95@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Arturo Moreno
Jarrell, TX
retama4609@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Howard Halkar
Idaho Falls, ID
hhalkar@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

rhonda rajer
Phoenix, AZ
rhonda.business@cox.net

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jessica Ribesky
East Lansing, MI
ribesky.jessica90@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Colleen O'Leary
El Mirage, AZ
colleen6303@aol.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

George pol
Los Angeles, CA
george050401@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

James Thompson
Madison, WI
jamesthomp@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Demarrion Haynes
Starkville, MS
demarrion.haynes@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

bret holloway
Belton, MO
breth100@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Patrice Cade
Auburn, WA
cade602@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

marc gold
Fountain Valley, CA
marcgold211@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Stuart Finkelson
Minneapolis, MN
sfinkelson@comcast.net

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Timothy Lee3
Tucson, AZ
leesavedbygrace@gmx.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

darango greenhaw
Burlison, TN
greend1961@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Bethany Andrade
Grand Bay, AL
talsocomoo@aol.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

JIMMY HAYWOOD
Hawthorne, CA
asonofgodforever@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Elmer Oelkers
EDELSTEIN, IL
ElmerOelkers313@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ronald Fanning
WICHITA, KS
RonaldFanning292@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kristopher King
Sacramento, CA
kristophergeorgeking@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joseph Weiss
Brooklyn, NY
joeweiss_2000@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

staci jacobsen
Forsyth, MT
staci.jacobsen41@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Callie McDonough
Ames, IA
mcdonoughcallie@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Marcela Arenas
Woodhaven, NY
guashu@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jefree Turrentine
Chicago, IL
jefreeturrentine@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Carl Geer
The Colony, TX
Cbengeer@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jordy nelson
Wrightstown, WI
jordynelson@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

earl blevins
Stigler, OK
1961baldy@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

joe brown
Oakland, CA
joe0134@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Pery Cooper
Buffalo, NY
coopwolf59@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

michael patterson
Roanoke, VA
dreadman1722@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jason Wuthrich
Janesville, WI
wuthrichjp1@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Henry Whyte
Carrollton, TX
trainman26@verizon.net

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Edward Guzman
San Antonio, TX
edwguzman62@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Manuel Rodriguez
Saint Paul, MN
manuel.rodriguez@mrqservicesinc.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Raul Hinojosa
Mission, TX
rhino2267@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kevin Bizzell
Paso Robles, CA
bizzellk@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Marilyn Sickel
Lebanon, OH
marilysickel1@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Melissa Buchmiller
Tooele, UT
joyedlc@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

abdulla issa kuwait, kuwait
aio93.ae@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

william smith
Johnson City, TN
smithwb.sr@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sid Jacobs
Orlando, FL
Sidjaco@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Anthony Gosack
Beverly Hills, FL
awgiants83@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jana Seniff
Blissfield, MI
janaseniff@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joseph Cappuccio
Egg Harbor Township, NJ
capooch@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Karen L. Bressette
Ashland, WI
klbressette@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mike Ferris
Ambler, PA
Mferris394@comcast.net

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alan Houchin
Birdseye, IN AHouchin69@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

David Johnson
Charlotte, NC
davidcjohnson@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

chantelle leone
New Rochelle, NY
c.leone@verizon.net

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Steven Yeakey
Wake Forest, NC
swyeakey@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Trisha KNIGHT
Grand Haven, MI
Tknight098@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Raymond fuentes
Waterbury, CT
raymondfuentesct@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Aaron Kay
Beaumont, TX
kayaaron13@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Linda Ostrowski
Cincinnati, OH
ostrowski.linda@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

sean wickizer
Olyphant, PA
swoop33s@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joseph Brusca
Saint Clair Shores, MI
obox360@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Rustin Bargo
Newburgh, IN
rkbargo@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Barbara Riales
Sharpsburg, GA
barbara.riales@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kelly Fairless
Olathe, CO
ekelly@skybeam.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

craig gordon
Elkton, KY
gordonc43@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Chuck Yancey
Raleigh, NC
chuckyancey@outlook.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jamie Robertson
Eden, MD
browncobs@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

sharon jackson
Detroit, MI
pinnybarix@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth Casapulla
Easton, PA
ecasapulla@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

arline soards
Pleasant View, UT
amsoards10@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Rosten bean boulder, CO
akuangels69@outlook.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

antwone lollis
Akron, OH
antwonelollis350@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Adam Stein
Brooklyn, NY
hopsquirtle@aol.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mitch DeBehnke
Neenah, WI
mdebehnke@sbcglobal.net

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Annabelle Fitzpatrick
Kent, OH
Trickstumph@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Bill Lorraine Hunter
Vancouver, WA
alpinehu@aol.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Bill Walker
Harker Heights, TX
williamswalker3@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jim Adams
Jeremiah, KY
solsinu@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

hayley gatehouse
Philadelphia, PA
ChristalGatehousepye@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jason Morrett
Flagstaff, AZ
jasonmorrett@msn.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Edith Turner
Omaha, NE
hawkdover1288@outlook.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

George Smith
Avalon, NJ
lolmaster21@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

ryann thompson
Chicago, IL
nonmesd@outlook.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

tim ruark
Wallingford, KY
timtooz@outlook.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

ted carter
chicago, IL
h.brown.deneen@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

chastity bowen
Santa Rosa Beach, FL
chastitybown2@charter.net

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jake Make Skokie, IL
jakemakeffss6565@aol.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brittany James Piermont, NH
jesusfreak03779@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

tim mclaughlin
Choudrant, LA
bloodysoul103@outlook.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alexson Green
Pompano Beach, FL
jimmylamarre34@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

regina gregg
Leon, WV
ginabug92@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Marilyn Temple
San Diego, CA
petrepet@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

David FosterNotaro
Ripley, TN
Dongerhero22@outlook.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Epifanio Nunez
Bakersfield, CA
E.nunez187@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Wendi Shower
Orem, UT
wendishower@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Smith
Roanoke, VA
theitkiller3@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

barb beatty
mount union, IN knightcap1@inbox.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dustin Smallwood
Medway, OH
smalls04@msn.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Thelma Tosh
Los Angeles, IL
thelmatosh566@outlook.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Renee Cutler
Vancouver, WA
Riverofjoy4u@aol.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alcide Markie
Avon, CT
TEDMARKIE@MYGAIT.COM

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Nicholas Mesecher
Goldendale, WA
certa88@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Andy toomey
Kansas City, KS
andy2me@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

sara nitke
Longmont, CO
saranitke@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

PATRICK SPENCER
Tucson, AZ
SKULL13856@AOL.COM

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Melvin Ulrich
Fort Thomas, KY
slya491@fuse.net

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

rick gumbs
Haledon, NJ
duck.sauce501@aol.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Bill Sprouse
Carmichael, CA
billsprouse@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ivan Flores
Rialto, CA
remoraid1976@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

markale Williams
Jacksonville, FL
mbwlive2013@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Donald Johnson
Oneonta, AL
thetaligo77@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Zack Roberts
Prescott Valley, AZ
inochef@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alexander Hawkins
Redondo Beach, CA
hawkinsa7@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mea Cadwell
Eau Claire, WI
mcadwell@fastmail.fm

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

richler c Bryceville, FL
richfly35@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Seth Pittman
Williamston, SC
spittman8@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Laila Perez
Okeechobee, FL
habanacub68@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jayce Park
Elk Grove, CA
uroboros94@outlook.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

frank gore
Jackson Heights, NY
rahanh123@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Essie Goodson
Darlington, SC
essieg36@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kenji Okazaki
Winston Salem, NC
kenjiokazaki97@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Janet Dybdal
Polson, MT
mjpgdyb@aol.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

stacy richa
Bronx, NY
kenderson357@aol.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mildred Wegmann
Cary, NC
mildredwegmann@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kevin lee Sacramento, CA
kevinlee035@outlook.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Gary Shamblen
Council Bluffs, IA
cyclone5243@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Vilai Keophath
Toledo, OH
vilaikeophath@yahoo.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ling Phan
Anaheim, CA
gorillaboi911@hotmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Celene Hope
Albany, CA
hawaiin1pride@gmail.com

9/5/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Andrew Johnson
Cupertino, CA
eggirl12345@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

PATRICIA CHAMPION
Muskegon, MI
patchampion7@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

joe snipes
Hendersonville, NC blooutfro@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Timmy Lamb
Columbia, SC
cookies4li43@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

adam magic Emmaus, PA
smallworlds10505@post.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

George Dalton
Bellevue, KY
bears_fan56@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Margaret Rutledge
Costa Mesa, CA
margaretrutledge@earthlink.net

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Edna Olinger
Festus, MO
kelly85davis@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

lori rivers
warner robins, GA
michelledoe1267@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

mark michaelson
San Francisco, CA
sharkeishc123@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Amy Mirando
Winterville, NC
halfgmgirl@aol.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

beth smith
valdosta, GA
88tigger@bellsouth.net

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dante Williams
Mandeville, LA
youngmoney1514@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

sarah winfield
Greenville, NC
shanesemoorep@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Karen L Jones
Philadelphia, PA
karenwilliams6468@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

TJ Smith
Puyallup, WA
just4points11@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Samaria Brown
Mullens, WV
samaria.brown@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dan Fino
Winona, MN
epiczealtime@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Monica Hoke
Warren, MI
Monicahoke99@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Autumn Costen
Moneta, VA
autumnlynnne1996@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Holly King
Topeka, KS
hollysurvey76@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Al Finely
Lufkin, TX
araorenee@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Bob Senn
Colorado Springs, CO
robertsenn1971@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Francis Chatelle
Rochester, NY
frankchatelle@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Warren Cheaney
columbus, GA
wlcjr17@hotmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Austin Wilson
Connelly Springs, NC
suppish15@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sarah Smith
Batavia, IL
watchingahs5@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mac Peoples
Passaic, NJ
notoppler@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

James Fletcher
Honolulu, HI
jamesgik8j@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

JM Tucker
Tulare, CA
jtjunkermail@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Phillip Taylor
Acworth, GA
ptaylor01@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kain billick
Jamestown, NY
kainmexi@icloud.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

bobby smith
Lawrenceville, VA
swnltruth@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jack Schlink
Eden Prairie, MN
jrs5ninja@hotmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dean Morton
Medford, OR
callipygous@msn.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

chase surgeon
Mobile, AL
chasesurgeon@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

joey crunch
Brookings, OR
joey.gc@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Robin Martinez
Santa Ana, CA r.o.b.m.a.714@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Julia Jones
Pacoima, CA
julijones@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mark Lackey
CHICKASHA, OK
MarkLackey2210@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Colette Butler
Pocatello, ID
colettebutler3545@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Miriam Cajuste
SCHENECTADY, NY
MiriamlolCajuste313@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jason Roghelia
Greensboro, NC
roghelia@triad.rr.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Melissa Ortiz
Austin, TX
melissaortiz27@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

krista grant
Zanesville, OH
krissag2003@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Steven Wilkins
Myrtle Beach, SC
purdue2us@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Emilee Rivera
Philadelphia, PA
mynx1032@comcast.net

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jake Mack
Skokie, IL
kayaye1298@aol.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Diaz
North Liberty, IA
johnff8i@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

amesha dumas
Gray, GA
longlady3022@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

craig phelps
Vidor, TX
cphelps@77yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

adrian gomez
Seattle, WA
adrian.gomez@gmx.us

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

andrew watton
Pittsburgh, PA
huron15203@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

courtney singleton
Columbia, SC
singletonca@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

rodrick beard
Scott City, MO
rodrickbeard66@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Hudson Gillbee
Mesa, AZ
hudsonbb89@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michael Flipp
Moose Lake, MN
flippstermn@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

nathan morgan
Andalusia, TN
forgree@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

eric smith
Conneaut, OH
ericanddanielle@hotmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jurnee Maddock Frankfort, IN
jurneemaddock@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

mike lee Hartford, CT
bmike3947@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jhon bush
Athens, GA
jhonbush751@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Steve martin
Salem, OR
extremeforces@hotmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jeb mara
New York, NY
gametopical@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kevin butler
Katy, TX
kevin__butler@hotmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Melissa Varney
Pleasanton, CA
varney@hotmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sabrina Lehner
Fresno, CA
lehrinerabr@hotmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Stejskal
Silsbee, TX
jenniferstejskal@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

tina madison
Lexington, KY
spademadison@aol.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jay Adams
Onalaska, WI
adamsjay42@aol.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ramona Mackie
Milton Freewater, OR
rmack07@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

edward watton
Pittsburgh, PA
paddyspub31@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

james berter
Nashville, TN
arianaharris10@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Phillip Woo
Downey, CA
woophil@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jim tankler
Wilkes Barre, PA
army123@hotmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Linda Kirk
Bullhead City, TX
lindayyj8@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

fred weed
Woodbridge, VA
fredd@Gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

dave fairbanks
Germantown, MD
dcfairbanks@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Ellison
Jacksonville, FL
ellisonjohn59@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Keith Chan
Fullerton, British Columbia
keithchan9@hotmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Matthew McMillian
Mount Airy, NC
stetsonman531975@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Adam Whaley
Springfield, OH
wolfpacrevolution548@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jack Gallagher
King George, VA
jjgall944@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tom Weeden
Vacaville, CA
tom95687shop@att.net

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

michaelene potter
Wellsburg, NY
sweets535@aol.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Daniel Murray
Pittsburgh, PA
danielthuj7@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Milton Chalifoux
Tucson, AZ
kennydavid@live.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ron Antons
Cornelius, OR
antons.ron@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Conrad Mattly
Tehachapi, CA
goingbig24@hotmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

F. Robert Dedrick
Newark, NY
fdedrick@rochester.rr.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kelizabeth lewis
Albany, NY
kelizabeth2113@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Cathy Callaway
Los Angeles, IL
cathycalla546@hotmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Serena Sanderson
Kensington, CA
sandrenaed@hotmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

georgia black
Huntington, WV
georgiablack723@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

otis brown
New Orleans, LA
obrown1111@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Randall Johnston
Lehigh Acres, CO
randalldee4r@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tony Adam
Sacramento, CA
rigotadofyny@aol.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

will cantrell
Sundance, WY
will605420@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jan Krakowiak Jr.
Clarksville, TN
jan.krakowiak.jr@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Don Gray
Pinellas Park, FL
graydonny@ymail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Stuart Johnson
Hollidaysburg, PA
dad216@msn.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Greg Mckenzie
Pearl, MS
gregyj8ig@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Electra Natchios
Columbus, OH
elektra.natchios095@mail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jodi Mendoza
Akron, OH
boot22nebec@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Brand
Galesburg, IL
redjfc769@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kenneth Unruh
Mesa, CT
kennethyu8jf@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Haley Davidson
Salem, AR
haleydavidson_2009@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lalala Loopsey
Peoria, AZ
laeisafgt@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Nathanael Everett
Provo, UT
dragonkin3000@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

David Jones
Johnson City, TN
wetchy@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

barb beatty
mount union, IN petterpippick@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Nikell Crump
Grand Rapids, MI
ncrump38@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Betty Chan
Houston, TX
Nessfaimel936@jourrapide.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Clementina Salgado
CAYUCOS, CA
doymtpig@hotmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Latonya Jordan
Tulsa, WI
latonyarrg6y@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Merrill Jackson
TEHACHAPI, CA
merrilljassckson@hotmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Freda Jackson
COPAN, OK
FredaJackson2210@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Elezeter Jackson
STILLWATER, OK
ElezeterJackson2210@hotmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alan Domaratius
North Port, FL
adomaratius@comcast.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Edward Heller
Zephyrhills, FL
edwdheller@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kyle Pigman
Columbus, OH
kcpohio@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kelly Gamble
ldabel, OK
saddy@aol.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

arrthur coats
Mooresville, NC
ajcoats0121@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Greg Allain
Cape Elizabeth, ME
gallain@ymail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Keith Donaldson
Springfield, OH
winds-seas@live.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Linda gore
Elyria, OH
linkosgo@oh.rr.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Humberto Olivas
WOODWARD, CO
HumbertoOlivas2210@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ginger Tanner
OZARK, AL
lumycas1225@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

bob bachoo
Bowie, MD
topgun21b@GMAIL.COM

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

judy shaw
North Pole, AK
judyshaw10@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jason Haas
Mandan, ND
nosaj942002@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dean Cheek
Houston, TX
khalildavis34@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

tiffany spiral
Huntington, WV
tiffanyspiral123456789@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Edith Turner
Omaha, NE
hawkdover1291@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

chiraq rondo
Carlisle, PA
chiraq.rondo@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tony Sutton
Mountain Home, ID
asutton536@cox.net

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Richard Hayward
Winthrop, ME
sidirhayw@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Keith Craig
Sacramento, CA
keithacraig@comcast.net

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Travis Schilling Stillwater, MN
lowtones2003@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jesse Gause
Austin, TX
jesse.gause@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

RICHARD MOORE
Medford, OR
rlmoore@ymail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

matt schwartz
Cincinnati, OH
schwartzmatt10@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Annette Hackim
san diego, CA
annettehackim@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

andy hollenbeck
Mechanicville, NY
andyhollenbeck4@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

matt woller
Alamogordo, NM
wollerfuel1@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

charles taters
Temple City, CA
tatergodling011@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Guy Bodemer
Moneta, VA
gbodemer@jetbroadband.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

JC Johns
Springfield, MO
jcjohns52@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mya Grand
Brooklyn, NY
landgridedera@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Richard Foster
Oakdale, CA
richardfoster646@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Rajon Brooks
Boston, MA
rajonbrooks@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

ryan griffin
Rock Island, IL
ryhno74@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

ron campen
Little Falls, NJ
ron_campen@hotmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alicia Easton
Portland, OR
tinkwings@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jon Reeve
Chandler, AZ
j_reeve@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

judi barton
Sun City, CA
judi527@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Melissa Johnson
Calhoun, GA
melissacavender1@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Richard Almeyda
Brooklyn, NY
satsp3@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Amber Kier
Lake Isabella, CA
savedbygrace.us01@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Chris Watson
Battleboro, NC
plizerebel@outlook.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

dan ark
Diamond Bar, CA
port@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jj aj
Falls Church, VA
jjawahar@gmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Thomas Marcum
Hulen, KY
blacktom@kih.net

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kenneth Bull
Akron, OH
KennethBull1@Hotmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

donnie sanders
Toney, AL
donnielsanders@att.net

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Cynthia Lester
Tucson, AZ
jjbinks1978@msn.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kenneth Moore
Port Gibson, MS
kennethamoore@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

peter ramirez
Worcester, MA
idennis2233445566@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

sheiknoor hassan
fort wayne, IN sheiknoor.hassan1109@yahoo.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Gina Selim
Walnut, CA
madeinthe80ss@hotmail.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Aureo Tellez
Costa Mesa, CA
aureotellez@live.com

9/6/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

gin moon
San Francisco, CA
moongin2@SBCGLOBAL.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Denise Buckley
Pensacola, FL
denisebuckley@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Cierra Gibson
Pennington Gap, VA
ccgibson1898@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

reginale smith
Orlando, FL
bluemanjunk@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

ralph santiago
Stroudsburg, PA
ralphsantiago36@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

brian blackman
Endicott, NY
bblackman34@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kathleen Quackenbush
Deltona, FL
kathyq@joimail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Carson Kauffman
Lancaster, PA
carsonkauffman@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sam Zuckschwerdt
Bloomfield, IN
mrz92@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lorrie Daniel
Castroville, TX
my2boysk8@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Courtney Garcia
Grand Prairie, FL
courtneyhu88i@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Po Hsiao Jersey City, NJ
phsiao@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

james ingram
Bel Air, MD
jamesjo@Outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

adam collins
Morrilton, AR
wartunemaerdash@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Edward Barrett
Redmond, TN
edwardffh7@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

teresa griffin
Eubank, KY
griffint76@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michael Frederick
Anchorage, AK
mfred29@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alan Luke
Bothell, WA
alanluke@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alex Ferguson
DeKalb, IL
alexferguson832@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kaleigh Kankel
BRENHAM, TX
KaleighKankel213@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mike Maczko
ROCKPORT, TX
MikeMaczko213@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Patsy Faiella
BRYSON CITY, NC
PatsyFaiella213@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Martha Urbina
PORT ARTHUR, TX
MarthaUrbina213@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joshua Faiella
WHITTIER, NC
JoshuaFaiella213@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ibrahim Kani
COLLEGE STATION, TX
IbrahimKani213@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sandy Naing
SAN ANTONIO, TX
SandyNaing213@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Christy Faiers
FRANKLIN, TX
ChristyFaiers213@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

David Snow
Orlando, FL
davidsnow208@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

barb beatty
mount union, IN chester513@inbox.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jo Archibald
Ogden, UT
jo28archibald28@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dan Cumming
CLEARWATER, KS
employdan78@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Angie Lager
MULVANE, KS
AngieLager292@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

james donaldson
Chesterfield, VA
jdonaldson@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Andrew Bateman
Radcliff, KY
andrewfu88o@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Briana Abitbol
CACHE, OK
BrianaAbitbol2210@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Robert Sampson
YUMA, AZ
RobertSampson1971@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Wells Sandra
HARTFORD, KY
WellsSandra747@mail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Rachel Kapelski
WICHITA FALLS, TX
RachelKapelski313@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Allen Bacon
TUCSON, AZ
calocola@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Leopoldo Quezada
MODESTO, CA
jkjlfzsk@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

thomas woodruff
Brighton, MA
tom.s.woodruff@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Cassandra Ramos
ENID, OK
CassandraRamos2210@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mary Gilstrap
Meridian, MS
mgilstrap11109@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dawn Masino
Delaware Water Gap, PA
dmasino10271@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Robert Sanchez
Henderson, NV
rmsanchez702@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

David Burton
Plymouth, WI
davidrhu7g@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

bill kennedy
Fredericksburg, PA
assassin4587@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Thomas Skinner
Longview, TX
Thomasskinner1339@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Johnny Moore
Bruce, MS
jonymor@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Daniel Gilbert
Spruce Pine, NC
adessertbreeze@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

david oswald
Palmyra, PA
davidoswald890@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jamie Haines
Phoenix, AZ
Jhai3234@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

killim will
San Diego, CA
killim.fred@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

tryvon pittman
Richmond, VA
geestrumz@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Terry Roberts
Cupertino, CA
roberertszx@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kyanna JOHNSON
Oklahoma City, OK
jesussheep10@rock.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Frances Rowe
Los Angeles, IL
francesrowe567@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

William Howes
Colville, WA
wlhowes@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sally Sue
Chicago, IL
sallywagsue@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jake Baker
Mansfield, OH
bakerjaker80@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Cynthia Harding
Waldoboro, ME
cynthiajj90@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Heather McKinnis
South China, ME
heatherlynn7@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Adam Whaley
Springfield, OH
snugglepop9@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kimberly Coyne
Huron, OH feel_the_energy@rocketmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ross Haley
Lewes, DE
haley@udel.edu

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey Davis
New Cumberland, PA
jdavis@paturnpike.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

TJ Cabrera
Haltom City, TX
tjc777@sbcglobal.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Josh Harshbarger
Circleville, OH
smartone29@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

paul isaman
Olean, NY
p.isaman@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

DARRYL ARNOLD
Atlanta, GA
mrbiggzforever50@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dave Tollefson
Chesterbrook, PA
nflfreetv@tollefson.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Debra St. Pierre
Gorham, ME
deb@mdsaint.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Peterson
Columbia, MD
johnpeter74@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lindsay Inger
Phoenixville, PA
lcrook2@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Danny Peavey
Atlanta, GA
dtpeavey@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

paul aguilar
Norristown, PA
tulfelhun@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Thomas Hansen
Plymouth, WI
Thomasdth6y@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

David Fields
Oshkosh, WI
fieldd031977@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jessica Paine
Metairie, LA
jpaine95@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Albert LeBlanc
New Orleans, LA
albertleblanc@att.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jerry Hart
Kendallville, IN hartoonie2002@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sherri Jackson
Borden, IN sherri_jackson29@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tommy jenkins
Hampton, FL
tommyjjenkins@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Aaron Sanders
Wyoming, MI
aaron.t.sanders@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mark Chastain
Raleigh, NC
mchast11@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Enrique Smith
Long Island City, NY
enrismith@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Austen Bunda
Langhorne, PA
bunda1152@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michael Thomas
Salem, AR
mbt1966@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Chester Harrison
Delaware, OH
chesterh1991@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Thomas Golden
Bethlehem, PA
nymfan735@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Robert Gates
Salem, MA
bobgates51@ymail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Danny Stamps
Northport, TX
Dannye6y@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jason Mustard
Dallas, TX
mustard.jason@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jim Cecconi
Springfield, KY
cecconijames@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Don Doss
Denver, CO
donadoss@aim.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Travis Mettler
Wallkill, NY
travismettler234@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jeremiah Ives
Bluffton, SC
jeremiah.ives@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

luke oshea
Alfred, NY
lukeo338@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joe B Saco, ME
josephus1969@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Derrick Redd
Lake Elsinore, CA
djmeart@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dan Koll
Orlando, FL
dhandada@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

MATT SUHR
Rockford, IL
mathwsuhr@comcast.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jerry Hlad
Cape Canaveral, FL
jerryh094@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joanna Martinez
Fresno, CA
joanna_mart@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Keith Greene
Richmond, OH
Keithrg66y@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Heather Gilliam
Hixson, TN
heather.gilliam@epbfi.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Bobby Woodsie
Pasadena, TX
bgwoodside@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Septimus Silas
Palm Bay, FL
Xsman013@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

William Purcell
McConnells, SC
wildbill_29731@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Richard Tilgner
Deming, NM
littletrailer@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Martin Sekula
Philadelphia, PA
msekula30@comcast.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mike Moore
Tipton, IN
skeetscrete@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Josh Hayat
Boiling Springs, SC
JoshHayat@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michael Bruce
Hermosa, SD
bethsman1@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Nils Lang Waxhaw, NC
swedishking@icloud.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michael McIntyre
Kirkland, WA
mike.mcintyre10@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mark DeHass
Palm Beach Gardens, FL
mdehass@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

anthony forgione
West Babylon, NY
ironhorse1200@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

china brown
Nashville, TN
keishay100@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Nayef Chahin
Sterling, VA
naytash@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

deb rimmel
Covington, LA
misslee00@bellsouth.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

mina rodriguez
Mableton, GA
missmina365@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Raymond Subia
Martinez, CA
unchainedrsrc@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

mat HIDALGO
Belmont, CA
MHIDALGO@GMAIL.COM

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Neill Rogers
Columbus, NC
neill.rogers@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

stephen zelonis
Warminster, PA stevez_junk@comcast.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lloyd Kanchan
Apple Valley, CA
Kanchanlloyd@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Abel Bartley
Liberty, SC
abartly@clemson.edu

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Gary Boykin
clarksville, TN
gary.boykin@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lisa Taylor
Washington, DC
iloveseble@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Fletcher Ballsack
Kearney, NE
catchfletch94@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Vanessa Dukowitz
Kenai, AK
vldukowi@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

benny aguirre Laredo, TX
aguirrebenny@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Micah Zulas
DeKalb, IL
Hal2000z@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jason Winland
Abbeville, LA
dreamthrough@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Justin Agardy
Cleveland, OH
jagardy504@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jim Dangle
Murfreesboro, TN
rebelshadow87@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Embrey
Clifton, VA
Inedrve87@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

FCCI Church
Leavenworth, KS
FcciAdmin@fccilvk.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Melissa Hansen
Marlborough, MA
ff.lioness@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kayla Stull
Fort Bragg, NC
ericandkayla2011@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joel Johnson
Galveston, TX
jjigg08@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Treven Ullrich
Sacramento, CA
tony20tu@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

barbara cunha
North Grosvenordale, CT
shesgood1957@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Troy Armont
San Antonio, TX
tjarms1964@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kevin Hu
Ellicott City, MD
kevinswho@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tony Nagora
Spring Hill, FL
tonyn19@live.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Felipe Trinidad
Chicago, IL
hoopluv3@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mike Hanna
Jacksonville, FL
mike.s.hanna@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Chad Fallers
Avondale, AZ
captcoyote99@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jodie Hoag
Plymouth, MA
jhoag928@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Adam Gibis
Minneapolis, MN
awgibis@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jonathan Lesperance
New York, NY
jlesperance@fordham.edu

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Seth McLain
Los Angeles, CA
stmclain@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

David Hoag
Sharon, MA
dhoag122@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alec Schicker
Saint Louis, MO
alecschicker39@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Claudia Walton
TULARE, CA
ClaudiaCALIWalton@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

bob porter
Fayetteville, PA
bobportersnowboarder@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Nelson Roman
Casselberry, FL
nroman_112@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Kepler
Philadelphia, PA
jdkepler@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Eric Shor
Madison, WI
esshor@wisc.edu

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

wayne Pham
Fort Drum, NY
wayneph123@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Scott Hindman
Chandler, AZ
shindman48@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Allison Nawracaj
Saint Paul, MN
fire_cracker4@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

xavier fambro
Atlanta, GA
xavierfambro@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joseph Alvin
Du Bois, PA
irland215@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Charles Lewis
Clarksville, TN
charles.lewis797@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

bill jill Clarksburg, WV
milkol866@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

nick scholl
Brooklyn, NY
nechs@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

William Sewell
Fort Wayne, IN
Willsewell@ymail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

carl christmas
New Cumberland, PA
c-christm@myway.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Cyndi Jefferson
Springfield, WV
cyndimills0908@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Stephen Prater
Columbus, OH
stephen.l.prater@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Andrew Serdich
Coatesville, PA
aserdich@comcast.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

TERI CIECHOWSKI
Largo, FL
tciechowski28@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Thomas Jefferson
Springfield, WV
tthomasjefferson3rd@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tom Charboneau
Sauk Centre, MN
tomchsr@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Laura Teekell
Princeton, LA
greeneyedteek@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

James Lab
North Canton, OH
ssgjalab1961@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ryan Prince
Farmers Branch, TX
raprince1013@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kevin Trapp
Annandale, MN
kvnrtrpp@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

patrick curtis
Belleville, IL
steelersandpenguins1@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Randall bartholomew
Little River, SC
rbartholomew1254@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jhavann Lewis
Bronx, NY
jabun1@msn.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Maralyn Conway
Harrisburg, PA
mcdkldy@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ryan Daly
Mahopac, NY
rydaly20@student.scad.edu

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

dong wang
Kirkland, WA
dongwang@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tyrone Valle
San Jacinto, CA
tyronevalle@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

SHAWN TERRY
Sun City, CA
SHAWN.TERRY@OUTLOOK.COM

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

una cleary
Los Angeles, CA
unatuna17@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lindsay Scheetz
Ann Arbor, MI
scheetzl@umich.edu

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

marcos martinez
Carson, CA
Marcos.Martinez@mainfreightusa.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jason Lotich
Clarksville, IN jleelot5615@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joe Strauch
Springfield, MO
joe3@live.missouristate.edu

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Omar Zamora
Reno, NV
zamomar@netzero.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Andy Grant
Billings, MT
mtr8erfan@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Doreen Lawson
Brooklyn, NY
whatsthatyousay@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Diane sanders
Belton, MO
drtangsrud@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brian Wolff
Cape Coral, FL
mdta1@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

wendy naine
Richmond, VA
gwnaine@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Marcus Hood
Kingman, AZ
mhood142@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jessica Arnold
Grants, NM
asmodeous666@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Rudy Canalez
Hanford, CA
mamboking1955@att.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Breana Crane
Nevada, IA
breanalcrane@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Richard Tyger
Lakewood, NJ
richardtyger@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

robert carr
Manchester, NH
robertcarriii@comcast.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Amanda Doerr
Milford, CT
Amariedoerr@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Isaac Moreno
Lovington, NM
isaacmoreno19@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dominic Burt
Clovis, NM
burt.dominic@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

DAN MOORE
Las Vegas, NV
DAN2810@AOL.COM

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mark Hartshorn
Rice Lake, WI
mhartshorn55@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

amber creasey
Williamsport, PA
acfiregirl26@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jonathan Murillo
Manville, NJ
murillo82@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joey Atkins
Stuttgart, AR
joeyatkins84@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

matt Gibson Longwood, FL
gibsomg@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

JOHN KELLER
Washington, DC
JK@LNF.COM

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Edward Maestas
Monte Vista, CO
2edwardm4@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brent Rader
Endicott, NY
brader@stny.rr.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

JAMES WEAVER
Pittsburgh, PA
james.weaverjr1@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Cheryl Surges
Modesto, CA
cherylsurges@att.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Trevor Bush
Jacksonville, AR
mr.and.mrs.bush@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Evans
Scranton, PA
Edge812010@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ben Eppley
West Chester, PA
echo1echo80@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michael James
Houston, TX
clafghan@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Keith Cooper
Liverpool, NY
kcooper3@twcny.rr.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Carl Hibberts
Randleman, NC
chibberts@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Robert Hundemer
Manhattan, KS
robert.hundemer@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tim DeVita
Aurora, CO
tjdevita@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Denee Coles
Columbia, MD
deneecoales@msn.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Rene Breton
Alpharetta, GA
renebreton@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

werner polczynski jr
Allentown, PA
wernerwbptir@msn.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alayna Pearson
Washington, DC
a.n.pearson@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Stephen McLaurin
Fayetteville, NC
smclaurin47@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

christian brents
Fort Stewart, GA
adolfou812@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

GARY Sweetser
Holly Hill, FL
garysweetnh@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Terry Prather
Monticello, GA
twprather@bellsouth.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Vladimir Vargas
Orlando, FL
dosnickles@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joseph Pena
Fayetteville, AR
josephp78@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

keith kelley
Port Saint Lucie, FL
athelo@bellsouth.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lawrence Bennett
Austin, TX
lbbennett504@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

david arzate
Los Angeles, CA
loriarzate@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

spencer pratt Oxford, CT
spencerpratt5@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Amy Strong
Bolingbrook, IL
als695@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Telethia Brower
Watertown, NY
missncredible@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jakob Okane
Manhattan, KS
jakobokane@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tanya Farris
Stafford, VA
tanyafarris01234@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Steven Marks
Chapel Hill, NC
marks.steven@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Doriane Shamburger
Pasadena, CA
msdoe1121@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brandon Logan
Pecos, TX
sports0004@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Barry Fisher
Santa Rosa, CA
bfisher707@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jack Nissim
San Francisco, CA
jacknissim@ymail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

chris begantino
Norfolk, VA
gansett_soccer@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

JEFF LEDFORD
Springfield, MO
KALIGUY91@YAHOO.COM

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

George Daugherty
Cincinnati, OH
georgeedaugherty@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Bill Popp
Trenton, FL
bpoppp@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kenneth fleetwood
Summerville, SC
fleetyfleet@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

philip look Jonesboro, ME
meman40@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

raul sagredo
Alvin, TX
raul_sagredo_@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

steven williams
Roswell, NM
sawilliams102809@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jim call
Delaware, OH
j.call11@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Renisha Austin
Boston, MA
raustin92@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

theo dickerson aurora, IL
thedickerson@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Paul Braun
Houston, TX
brewski46@att.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

seth mcclenahan
Worcester, MA
soccerseth9@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Bonnie Stanzak Gettysburg, PA
bstanzak@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Pedro
Glendora, CA
johngrows71@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

christine johnson woodford, VA
donniehoneybear@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Glen Maxwell
Winter Park, FL
bazster1@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

James Missett
Lowell, MA
james.missett@comcast.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Marie Wayans
Brooklyn, NY
Graymaregang@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

BENJAMIN KEELER
Luling, LA
BKEELER09@GMAIL.COM

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

kathleen sorbelli
Kingston, PA
kitkat1000.ks@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Amber Poore
Wilmington, DE
ambermarie4206@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Hugo Velasco
Miami, FL
velasco_hugo@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

David Blake
Altoona, PA
fallguy13@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Casey Brown
Iowa City, IA
cbrown_cubs@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jody Davis
Winter Park, FL
j_wdavis@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joseph Griffeth
Canaan, ME
josephgriffethsr@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

RICH Maddock
Valrico, FL
coach.maddock@verizon.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mike Bailey
Perry, GA
james_smythe1900@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Christopher Wainwright
South Amboy, NJ
christopherwainwright615@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alice Hudman
Schertz, TX
jahud@swbell.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey Benkovic
Emmaus, PA
benkovicj@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joshua Usher
Dover Foxcroft, ME
usherjosh@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Zac Lowther
Cincinnati, OH
lowtherz@xavier.edu

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Hylin McNeeley
Nashville, TN
hylumcneeley@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Karla Fassett
Charlevoix, MI
kfassett65@charter.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jason Beegle
Greenbrier, AR
JPB2426@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Earl Turner
Omaha, NE
hawkdover1294@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Larry Jones
Decatur, GA
Larry_Jones10@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jess Rea
Harrington, DE
LilBitGreedy@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joseph Smith
Mount Joy, PA
slushey26@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Geren Peel
Las Vegas, NV
gpplatinum@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Colten Smith
South Wales, NY
hesabanana@verizon.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joe Drago
Salem, WV
jldrago22@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

val Voracek
Kenyon, MN
cuttie_baby_05@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Chester Williams
Vallejo, CA
ckw.enterprises@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Chad netherton
Woodbridge, VA
cnetherton@me.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mac Tackett
Allen, TX
bufbils@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

James Norton
Vernon Rockville, CT
hanknorton@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Johnny Trotter
Fayetteville, GA
johntrot@earthlink.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Louie Puente
Minneapolis, MN
Louieapuate@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brian Dutlinger
Georgetown, OH
dutlingerb@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Cuarenta Summers
Indianapolis, IN
iamcuarenta@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kit Krisman
Hilo, HI
kittypwr2@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dawn Simmons
West Palm Beach, FL
theartist051982@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Arnold Molic
Washington, DC
molas95@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

carlos montero
Spotswood, NJ
monterocarlos@msn.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lee Sheets
Ravenswood, WV sheets_lee@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ed Heckman
Essex, MD
edheckman@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

tom giglio
Selden, NY
tommybird1993@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Stefon Gambrell
Fort Mill, SC
sgambrell1998@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jake smuck
Morgantown, WV
jakesmuck@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

James Jr.
Tampico, IL
jsironhead68@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kenneth Bryan
Dallas, TX
kb8854@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lou Joseph Lamonte Jr
Tampa, FL
arazmus@tampabay.rr.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

nathan fillpot
Martinsburg, WV
slimgoodymusik@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Anthony Aguilar
Pacoima, CA
waguilar18.aa@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sung Park
Laurel, MD
swp782@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

SUPRINA HICKS
Clinton, MD
hickss@finra.org

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Carl Andrews
Salem, MA
cdman_99@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Scott Wagonblott
Yorktown, VA
wagsnfam@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Rebecca Brown
Hamilton, TX
rj.brown506@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Gary Helck
Glen Ellyn, IL
garyhelck@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

paul logar
Lagrange, GA
LOGARP6@charter.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Vincent Fowler
Grandview, MO
fowlerve@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Corey Budgick
Marquette, MI
coreybudgick@charter.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Zachary Dearing
Siloam Springs, AR
zacharydearing0@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jonathen bella
Salem, OR
jdbella2014@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jacob Denniston
Solon, IA
jdenniston92@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Traci Gehm
Sandy Hook, CT
traci.gehm@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

scotty landry
Malone, NY
sjlan77@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jason White
Tempe, AZ
jjasonwhite@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

TERESA MARTINEZ
LITTLE ELM, TX
TMARTINEZ006@YAHOO.COM

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

e f Kenvil, NJ
edone555@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Varrick Byrd
Greensboro, NC
varrickb@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alexander Makielski
Bellevue, WA
magikalowski@comcast.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jenny Michele
New Castle, IN
wowgirl.jj@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

michael brush davenport, IA
hellojon11@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Abel Urizar
Garland, TX
abe.sc.dm@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jose Casares
Tucson, AZ
joseluiscasa@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Keith Viera
Twentynine Palms, CA
keithviera@msn.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Reed Snappe
San Jose, CA
PEnswearry3446@jourrapide.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

tim redden
Long Beach, MS
bigshow559@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

paolo meo
Miami, FL
11pmeo@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Timothy Viles
Pocatello, ID
viles69@Hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Doug Gehlbach
Ramsey, NJ
gehlbachd@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Andre Patrick
Eugene, OR
dre5121@hormail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

brad woodman
Cocoa, FL
bwallywood@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

ashley ferugson Texarkana, TX
fitnessislife10@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Christopher Hawkins
Long Beach, CA
hawkins1997@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Gregory Shelton
Prairie Village, KS
gshelton@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Timothy Watson III
Chicago, IL
twatsoniii@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sharon Cohen
Sunnyvale, CA
sharon.cohen@thecohen.org

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Robert Blakeney
Seguin, TX
Roblake7@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lance Hudson
Rio Rancho, NM
lancehudson0408@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

TOBY SHANK
San Luis Obispo, CA
TOBY_SHANK@HOTMAIL.COM

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Etling
Bruceton, TN
jaetling@k3jae.dyndns.org

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Donna Carter
Colonial Beach, VA
photodrm1@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kody Lueders
Westside, IA
lueders_k@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Cherie Moore
Ellisville, MO dragonflydesigns_stl@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

stephen edwards
Ocala, FL
stephenocala@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

robert cooke
Simpsonville, SC
rcooke57@frontier.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jason Russell
Katy, TX
jasonrussell7970@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kriss Wieland
Bremerton, WA
rallymonkeybite@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kyle Kaylor
Lincoln, IL
krkaylor@lincolncristian.edu

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Richard Barnes
Port Huron, MI
fvfrn0401@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Disja Ruffin
Tucker, GA
deh070605@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jason Adams
San Antonio, TX
NavManTX@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Josh Heffington
Fort Worth, TX
josh@allstatesroofs.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kimberly Farabee
Lexington, NC
kefarabee@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

michael fure
Harrisburg, PA
cozfiorito@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Glenn Orr
Lebanon, PA
gojo10@verizon.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Rafael Reyes
San Diego, CA
theroffness@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Heather Ryan
Harpers Ferry, WV
heatherryan82@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Luis Alguera
Wharton, NJ
luisalguera@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Steven Di Cristo
Caldwell, ID
sdicristo@centurylink.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Steven Treat
Nampa, ID
foxtrotkayne@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Amanda Mullis
Oakboro, NC
amandamullis537@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kari Catanach
Santa Fe, NM
skekcat@msn.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tony wilkey
Liverpool, NY
twilkey@twcny.rr.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tyler Woodward
Onalaska, WI
me@tylerwoodward.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jonathan Dyson
Mineola, TX
jonathan.d.dyson@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ed Medford
Georgetown, TX
ecmedford@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sharon Hallstoos
Dubuque, IA
shallstoos@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Floria Lape
Palm Bay, FL
gowithflo46@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

DeQuan Washington
Lancaster, OH
luarelee25@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dan Bernhard
Naperville, IL
Bernhard.dan11@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

ana thao
Connelly Springs, NC
danielchae1@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michelle Burling
Concord, NC
swimmich@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Rodney Ducharme
Lakewood, WA
rodney.ducharme@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

CASEY TADIOS
Ewa Beach, HI
cASEYTTTADIOS@GMAIL.COM

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Stan Lanier
Waycross, GA
stanlanier52@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Justin Lindell centennial, CO
jlindell1515@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Billy Smith
Lenoir City, TN
billytsmithjr@comcast.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Caleb Peterson
Chicago, IL
cwinfieldp@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tobias Sharp
Birmingham, AL
tobiasssharp@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

James Farrell
Houston, TX
jabefarrell@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kayla Mountain
Fairbanks, AK
kaylamountain7@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Steve Feriozzi
Marco Island, FL
feriozzisteve@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Richard Krulisky
Eagle Mountain, UT
rkrulisky@msn.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

cathleen rivera
Jamaica, NY
swagtodisney@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jared perez
Key West, FL
kkevans12@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

gil galan
Waukegan, IL
gilgalansr@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Christine Phillips
Tumwater, WA
christine_whitaker@comcast.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

tony dorsett
Houston, TX
tonyd@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michael Jones
Lima, OH
gatorfan4life287@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Robert Gomez
Las Cruces, NM
moverb_boverb@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jake Roberts
Elk Grove, CA
dubstepsux@outlook.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michael Capristo
San Jose, CA
Cprst@yahoo.Com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

alexsa williams
Lakeland, FL
alexawilliams@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jedediah hunt
Crescent City, CA
anubis5150.jh@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Hunter Walz
Audubon, MN
hunterwalz@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Andrew Steele
Waxhaw, NC
drew5252@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Evan Ghigliotty
Los Angeles, CA
ghigster@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Charity Stickle
Hershey, PA
spotteddanedesign@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

russell martin-jenkins
Vancouver, WA
martinjenkins21@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

karen jacunski
Hayward, CA
karenjacunski0778@msn.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brian Franta
Las Vegas, NV
bfloves2golf@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Clyde C Carlile
Kingsburg, CA
cecilcarlile@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Howard Clifton
Smithfield, VA
Cliftonhm@icloud.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sus Sweeters
Albuquerque, NM
sweetsus@copper.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Cynthia Zeager
Ridgefield, WA
phurst_46@msn.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

javier rios
Turlock, CA
javierios.jr@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

wes cobb
Arvada, CO
wcobb@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

ruth force
Arvada, CO
ruthforce@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ariana Aliciano
snellville, GA
anastacianiaduminko@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Debora Delcamp
Stockton, NY
biker21@netsync.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Paul Ares
Fayetteville, NY
pablo13088@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

rebecca keeper
Painesville, OH
mama5gees2@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

sandor peter
Houston, TX
megadummy616@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ryan Farrington
Hurlburt Field, FL
dc3suntree@aol.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lisa Chambliss
Dresden, TN
lisrearl@ut.utm.edu

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ronnie Jones
East Meadow, NY
rjones49@comcast.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Gina Porch
Warner Robins, GA
greekgodyogurt@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Rafael Uerdaz
Millersville, PA
ruerdaz@comcast.net

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tim Schumacher
Spanaway, WA
tbtjs421@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ryan Nolan
West Lafayette, IN
sweathog@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Bob Stahly
Geneva, IL
bstahly@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Coleen Van Donselaar
Loveland, CO
coevan@juno.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Zach Smith
Monmouth, IL
zsmith@justincasemail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jamie salas
Tacoma, WA
jamiejane671@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jeff Sikala
Lawrenceville, GA
sikala9@hotmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joseph Elmore
Batavia, NY
josephoelmore@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ashley Chase
Aurora, CO
Ashleychase0587@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Farah Toler
Coweta, OK
farahtoler@nsuok.edu

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Tom Watson
Houston, TX
t.watson@gmx.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

michael windsor
Las Vegas, NV
mw49new@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lysandra Carter
Los Angeles, CA
lcarteraaron@yahoo.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

william kuang
Fremont, CA
williamkng123@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ralph Miedico
CORAL SPRINGS, FL
scorpion19634@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Timothy Norton
Sioux City, IA
norton712@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

darron brown
newark, NJ
veryinguegirl@gmail.com

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

J Steed
Amherst, NH
jsteed@jhbconsulting.org

9/7/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

nate emond
Webster, MA
eaglesfannate@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Randy Weeton
San Jose, CA
rwwother@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lesley Urasky
Sinclair, WY
yamcam@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Enrique Rodriguez
Lake Forest, CA
HeartofDixie88@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Terry Velarde
Gilbert, AZ
apglass@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jawanth vytheeswaran
Plano, TX
jviyer-temp@yahoo.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Daniel Mills
Indianapolis, IN
dlmills25@yahoo.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Ramirez
Baytown, TX
naruto9lol@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

alex gudino
Colorado Springs, CO
broncos199855@yahoo.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mollee Wickham
Monterey Park, OR
molleewickham@hotmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kristina Allgier
Euless, TX
kristina_123d@hotmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Amber Ehrlick
Denver, CO
amberehrlick@msn.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kaila Bayes
Parker, CO
kailabayes01@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Gilligan
Saint Petersburg, FL
johngilligan50@hotmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Brian Zier
Olympia, WA
zier11@hotmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Christi Reber Huntington, IN christi.reber66@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Aaron Bosley
Pittsburgh, PA
abrules4@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jeremy Vierra
Reno, NV
cyanide5977@hotmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Anthony Ketay
Peculiar, MO
aketay@comcast.net

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

ronald clork
Cincinnati, OH
ronaldclark224@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lucas Fischer
Wausau, WI
lucas@fischermusic.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Elio Castillo
Grand Island, NE
eliocastillo81@yahoo.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jason Aendt
Reno, NV
Gamerskum@yahoo.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kristine Hill
Wasilla, AK
tkroomates@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

jamie laurenti
Denver, CO
jamie.laurienti@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

bob Bradford
Portland, OR
rwbradford11@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Remington Rendon
Nampa, ID
ja4remington@hotmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mark Nicholas
Natchitoches, LA
mnicholas456@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kennol Knight
Columbus, OH
kennolknight@att.net

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kelly Schotzko
Tony, WI
kkehane@hotmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

marty gnann
Leesburg, FL
gogators4cassia@yahoo.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Samuel Adams
Stone Mountain, GA
sadams27@bellsouth.net

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Richard Nuss
Campbellsville, KY
ranuss@mmm.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Shelle Walker
Agoura Hills, CA
shellepartyoffive@sbcglobal.net

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Rod Richmond
Eustis, FL
farve2jets@yahoo.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Pam B
Loris, SC
pamelab_32@hotmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Aaron Baker
Lima, OH
aaronneilbaker92@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

james atkins
Muskegon, MI
frenchboard@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Paul Thompson
Olympia, WA
darthpaul1138@yahoo.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Darryl Gruber
Indianapolis, IN
sckowthuhder@yahoo.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Alexander Davis
Kansas City, KS
alexavisgreat@aol.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Laura Verrips
Erie, CO
lsverrips@yahoo.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

dennis bentley
Cedar City, UT
bentleyut3@infowest.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Virginia Hall
Waterbury, AZ
Virginiargyh54@aol.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

ray derobbio
Atlantic Highlands, NJ
derobbio52@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Diego Viera
Brentwood, NY
thecardishere20@hotmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

John Montgomery
Honolulu, HI
cyanxbird1@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jesica Fualkner
Norwich, CT
oguess01325@yahoo.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ashleigh Whitsett
Colorado Springs, CO
whitsett.ashleigh@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kay Fleming
Carrollton, TX
kayafleming@clear.net

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

David Jones
Johnson City, TN
windshmug@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

sean tate
Las Vegas, NV
tate1492@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

mark reds
Tucson, AZ
cuentas03a@hotmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

dorothy smith
Winona, MN
peteyj92@hotmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Kara Yuan
Oklahoma City, OK
taeminswife@yahoo.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Joe Leahy
East Bridgewater, MA
odiecat99@hotmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Lenard Jones
Anchorage, AK
Lenardrg66y@aol.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Barney Hobson
Pleasant Hill, CA
hobarnsson@hotmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Damien Owens
Norfolk, VA
Maplercwwshz@outlook.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

daniel stevens
Conneaut, OH
dn7685@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

noel gonzalez
Seattle, WA
NatLye@outlook.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

brin waldrup
Richmond, VA
freshbasser@outlook.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Clark Kent
Redding, CA
purefire297@hotmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

deric box
Redmond, OR
ribsormuscle@aol.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Pete bering
Las Vegas, NV
Vommens1412@yahoo.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Michele Moreland
Palo Alto, CA
moreland@hotmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

james bardwell
Middletown, RI
nanjam@cox.net

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

David Reynolds
Los Angeles, IL
davidreynolds43@hotmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

David Ruszkowski
Olean, NY
dave@buffalomedia.net

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Dillon Swanson
Cypress, TX
tswan70.ts@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Daniel Nafzinger
Cleona, PA
nap1969@hotmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

malik ahmaddiya
Philadelphia, PA
ahmaddiyamalik@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Steve Campbell
Chesterfield, TX
stevefyh7i@outlook.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Nicole Wiercinski
Bloomfield, NJ
nwiercinski@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Marty Buck
Monmouth, IL
vjshrgs798@outlook.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Sabrina James Pensacola, FL
bregal31@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Phil Lang
Bozeman, MT
ffmontana@yahoo.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Paige Shultz
Beachwood, OH
shultzrespect@hotmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Linkorn Mester
Beaver Falls, PA
ckrock54@mail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

bentley wilbert
Saint Louis, MO
boschbentley@icloud.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Andrew James
Chandler, AZ
andrew_m_james@yahoo.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Thalia Inson
Brooklyn, NY
gunzofthesunz@outlook.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

joan storey Vickery, OH
ljstorey3@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Nathaniel Thomas Jr
Saint Louis, MO
bacdoeman@yahoo.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Matthew Pugh
High Point, NC
mpugh777@twc.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mya Allen
Columbus, OH
allentellme@hotmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Larry Farmer
Okeechobee, FL farmer18@att.net

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Gayle Montgomery
Spring Lake, NJ
lilyapr@optimum.net

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Neal Waggener
Osceola, AR
mowen8940@outlook.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Ryan Mulvaney
Boise, ID
rilmulvaney@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Chris Heaton
Flowery Branch, GA
heaton.c@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Bree-Ann Vansteenburgh
Rosemount, MN
bvansteenburgh@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Charlie Deaver
Ayden, NC
Panterahead12@yahoo.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Mike Keegan
Auburn, NY
rmkeegan1@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Steve Andrews
Akron, OH
oklandsask@outlook.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Rudy smithson
Brooklyn, NY
neono@outlook.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Larry Hultquist
McDonough, GA
hultquistl@gmail.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Salvatore Abbadessa
Salem, NH
saca603@aol.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Jay Kiser
Toano, VA
jaykiser@yahoo.com

9/8/2014

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary
445 12th Street, SW
Room TW-A325
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners:

Re: MB Docket No. 12-3

I write as a football fan to strongly urge you to maintain the FCC's current broadcast rules now under review. The Sports Blackout Rule has been in place for decades and keeps NFL games on free, over-the-air TV. The NFL, my local community and fans like me all win when home games are sold out. Under the current system, I have access to all of my local team's games on free TV.

I object to the cable and satellite company lobbyists who are trying to change the rules in order to charge exorbitant fees for football games that I can watch right now for free on local television. The current system works – over 99 percent of NFL games were available on local broadcast TV in 2013. Let's keep the current rules and keep the NFL on free, over-the-air TV.

Sincerely,

Melissa Davey
Seattle, WA
melissa.davey@live.com