

What do you believe is wrong about the current internet structure that you, companies with the most complaints filed at the BBB, online or otherwise, are the ones to make it right?

Everything you do is rooted in evil...pure evil. I know you probably view that as dramatic but it's the simple truth. There is good and there is evil. Which side are you on?

That's a rhetorical question. Let me help you. You're evil!

I know controlling the flow of information would eliminate a lot of the "snags" you run into when staging false flags or endorsing our own CIA to topple another country's government, but maybe instead of trying to figure out how to CONTROL humanity, you could set aside your evil bias and actually JOIN humanity.
