

There will be no hyper lane. There will be a fast lane and slow lane. We will be shaken down like a mob-run barrio headed by the FCC chairman's drinking buddies. The internet was built on neutrality and must remain so.