Dear FCC,

My name is yovan g. padilla and I live in sacramento, CA.

Net neutrality, the principle that Internet service providers (ISPs) treat all data that travels over their networks equally, is important to me because without it users may have fewer options and a less diverse Internet.

A pay-to-play Internet worries me because new, innovative services that can't afford expensive fees for better service will be less likely to succeed.

I can barely afford Internet as it is and if this goes through then rates will go through the roof. You are giving isp's too much power.

Sincerely,

yovan g. padilla
