Dear FCC,

My name is Zoe and I live in Longwood, FL.

Net neutrality, the principle that Internet service providers (ISPs) treat all data that travels over their networks equally, is important to me because without it users may have fewer options and a less diverse Internet.

A pay-to-play Internet worries me because new, innovative services that can't afford expensive fees for better service will be less likely to succeed.

The Internet is the ONE PLACE where everyone has access to an audience, and they nor the audience has to pay to find each other. We shouldn't be censored either, as how else are people with different opinions or new ideas supposed to share them?! We are not just a bunch of sheep that you somehow found the right to herd. No, we are humans too, and we deserve to retain our rights. Let the free be free so that we can keep it the home of the brave!

Sincerely,

Zoe
