Dear FCC,

My name is Angel Fernandez and I live in San Diego, CA.

Net neutrality, the principle that Internet service providers (ISPs) treat all data that travels over their networks equally, is important to me because without it ISPs could have too much power to determine my Internet experience by providing better access to some services but not others.

A pay-to-play Internet worries me because new, innovative services that can't afford expensive fees for better service will be less likely to succeed.

The internet needs to stay as how it is now free and open. Since the internet the world has become a better place for everyone, now we know the truth of many things that 20 years ago didn't even know happen. Please keep the internet open. We live Life not for money but for knowledge. Don't be afraid of the people being informed, if that is the case, stop doing the things that you are afraid of us to know.

Sincerely,

Angel Fernandez
