Dear FCC,

My name is Kadijha bass and I live in Middletown, OH.

Net neutrality, the principle that Internet service providers (ISPs) treat all data that travels over their networks equally, is important to me because without it We lose a guaranteed connection to our friends and family out of state or overseas.

A pay-to-play Internet worries me because new, innovative services that can't afford expensive fees for better service will be less likely to succeed.

The internet is important to me because it helps me keep in contact with my husband who is currently overseas serving our country and protecting your freedom as well as mine. Also I'm a mother attending college and raising a child is hard enough without all the added expenses of pay-to-play internet. Please don't make the average citizens life that much harder. Don't you have enough money??

Sincerely,

Kadijha bass
